

This teaching series studies the 70 types of people Solomon addresses in Proverbs. (Makes you wonder if the world has only 70 types)

"Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth" ~ II Timothy 2:15

"Solomon being the wisest person who ever had lived or would ever live."

When opened, a one-page outline will introduce all 70 types of people.

As you tap/select one type of person, it will open to a full Hebrew and Greek word study.

For example, one type of person mentioned in Proverbs is a "fool." When you open this study by clicking "fool", you will find at least 5 primary Hebrew words rendered fool. When these 5 primary Hebrew words were translated, they mostly selected the English word "fool". We "rightly divided the word of truth" back into the original 5 Hebrew words and then created 5 lists of verses. We have found that the English word "fool" has 5 stages in Hebrew. For this word, the 5 stages range from being a bad-to-worst kind of fool.

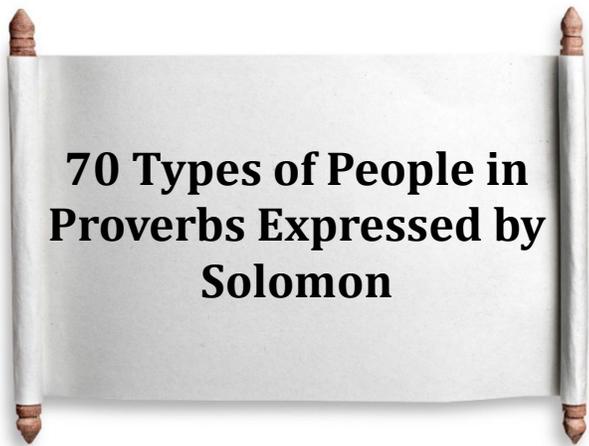

Once you open one of the studies, tap on the arrow to listen to a 10-15 minute verbal introduction for that subject.

Note: This is not a full audio presentation nor presented as studied by others. It is, however, set up for helping you study. It contains substantial insights, visible signs, thoughts, and scripture in the over 3300 pages. I personally hope this will help you.

Vine's Expository Dictionary of Biblical Words

A Simple Person - Greek

GUILELESS (WITHOUT GUILE)

1. adolos "without guile" (a, negative, and dolos, see GUILE), "pure, unadulterated," is used metaphorically of the teaching of the Word of God, 1 Peter 2:2, RV. It is used in the papyri writings of seed, corn, wheat, oil, wine, etc.

2. akakos lit., "without evil" (a, negative, kakos, "evil"), signifies "simple, guileless," Rom 16:18, "simple," of believers (perhaps unsuspecting, or, rather, innocent, free from admixture of evil); in Heb 7:26, RV, "guileless" (KJV, "harmless"), the character of Christ (more lit., "free from evil"). Cf. Sept., Job 2:3; 8:20; Prov 1:4; 14:15. See HARMLESS.

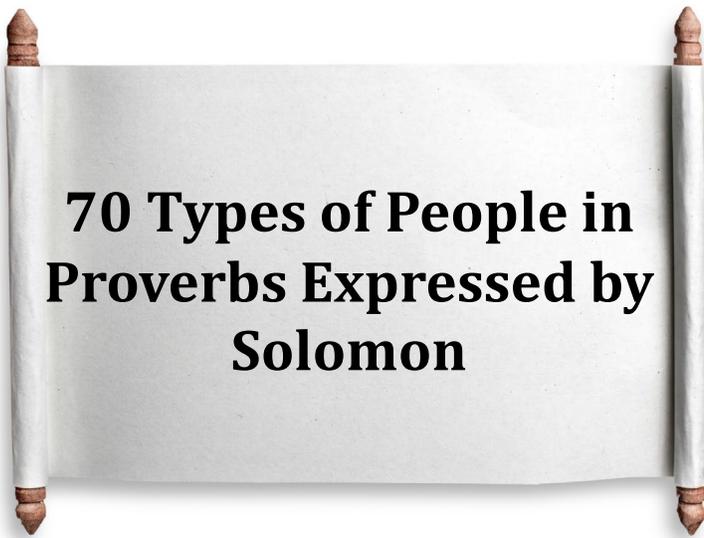

HARMLESS

1. akeraios lit., "unmixed, with absence of foreign mixture" (from a, negative, and kerannumi, "to mix"), "pure," is used metaphorically in the NT of what is guileless, sincere, Matt 10:16, "harmless" (marg., "simple"), i. e., with the simplicity of a single eye, discerning what is evil, and choosing only what glorifies God; Rom 16:19, "simple (unto that which is evil)," KJV marg., "harmless"; Phil 2:15, "harmless," KJV marg., "sincere." The Greeks used it of wine unmixed with water, of unalloyed metal; in the papyri writings it is used of a loan the interest of which is guaranteed (Moulton and Milligan, Vocab.). Trench compares it and synonymous words as follows: "as the akakos (see No. 2, below) has no harmfulness in him, and the adolos no guile, so the akeraios no foreign mixture, and the haplous no folds" (Syn. Sec. lvi). Haplous is said of the single eye, Matt 6:22; Luke 11:34.

2. akakos the negative of kakos (see HARM, A, No. 1), "void of evil," is rendered "harmless" in Heb 7:26 (RV, "guileless"), of the character of Christ as a High Priest; in Rom 16:18, RV, "innocent," KJV, "simple."

CHARACTER AND CHARACTERISTICS OF A FOOLISH MANAGER

Progressive Management Methods

1. BY HIS PERSONAL ACTIONS (NOT THE ECONOMY) HE TEARS DOWN THE BUSINESS

He is reactionary and stubborn to a degree and does not investigate fully the issues prior to moving ahead with decisions. (Reactionary vs. Responsive at times).

Proverbs 14:1 - Every wise woman builds her house: but the foolish plucks it down with her hands.

2. HE TENDS TO LOOK DOWN HIS NOSE AT THOSE WHO MAINTAIN A CORRECT ATTITUDE (i.e., despise), and who are cautious not to violate truth. They generally do this with a humble yet superior attitude (i.e., wise in their own conceit). However, this managers words and ways surface at times in such a way that it reveals the perverse perspectives that he has. (Listen to the words).

Proverbs 14:2 - He that walks in his uprightness fears the Lord: but he that is perverse in his ways despises him.

3. THEY FEEL THEY ARE RIGHT (THEY PROJECT PRIDE)

They can be contentious. He becomes less and less teachable. (They do not give you time to explain).

Proverbs 14:3 - In the mouth of the foolish is a rod of pride: but the lips of the wise shall preserve them.

INSIGHTS FROM PROVERBS

4. HIS MANAGEMENT FOCUS IS ON HOW PEOPLE PERCEIVE HIM

The perception of the company by the public is important if it gets people to focus on him. Therefore, there is a tendency to be internally motivated to get attention. The result can be a clean building or focus on personal image, but over time less business is done than what there should be. There tends to be less success because of that image motivation. (Success is not measured by what we are doing but by what we could be doing).

Proverbs 14:4 - Where no oxen are, the crib is clean: but much increase is by the strength of the ox.

5. "SITUATIONS" WILL ARISE WHERE TRUTH CONFRONTS THE ERROR OF HIS METHODS AND HE CAN LIE

It can show up in false reporting of the companies numbers or plans to stockholders, the owner or the board. It also shows up in letting people believe something that is not true by saying half-truths. He tends to change the truth of what is really going on in the business.

Proverbs 14:5 - A faithful witness will not lie: but a false witness will utter lies.

6. IF THIS MANAGER IS AT AN EVIL LEVEL OR HE IS A SCORNER HE HAS 2 MAJOR PROBLEMS

A Wise Person - Hebrew

WISE, SKILLED

chakam "wise; skillful; practical." This word plus the noun chakemah and the verb "to be wise" signify an important element of the Old Testament religious point of view. Religious experience was not a routine, a ritual, or faith experience. It was viewed as a mastery of the art of living in accordance with God's expectations. In their definition, the words "mastery" and "art" signify that wisdom was a process of attainment and not an accomplishment. The secular usage bears out the importance of these observations.

Chakam appears 132 times in the Hebrew Old Testament. It occurs most frequently in Job, Proverbs, and Ecclesiastes, for which reason these books are known as "wisdom literature". The first occurrence of chakam is in Gen 41:8: "And it came to pass in the morning that his spirit was troubled; and he sent and called for all the magicians of Egypt, and all the wise men thereof: and Pharaoh told them his dream; but there was none that could interpret them unto Pharaoh."

The chakam in secular usage signified a man who was a "skillful" craftsman. The manufacturers of the objects belonging to the tabernacle were known to be wise, or experienced in their crafts Ex 36:4. Even the man who was skillful in making idols was recognized as a craftsman Isa 40:20; cf. Jer 10:9. The reason for this is to be found in the man's skill, craftsmanship, and not in the object which was being manufactured. Those who were experienced in life were known as "wise," but their wisdom is not to be confused with the religious usage. Cleverness and shrewdness characterized this type of wisdom. Amnon consulted Jonadab, who was known as a shrewd man 2 Sam 13:3, and followed his plan of seducing his sister Tamar. Joab hired a "wise" woman to make David change his mind about Absalom 2 Sam 14:2.

Based on the characterization of wisdom as a skill, a class of counselors known as "wise men" arose. They were to be found in Egypt Gen 41:8, in Babylon Jer 50:35, in Tyre Ezek 27:9, in Edom Obad 8, and in Israel. In pagan cultures the "wise" man practiced magic and divination: "Then Pharaoh also called the wise men and the sorcerers: now the magicians of Egypt, they also did in like manner with their enchantments" Ex 7:11; and "...that frustrateth the tokens of the liars, and maketh diviners mad; that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish" Isa 44:25.

The religious sense of chakom excludes delusion, craftiness, shrewdness, and magic. God is the source of wisdom, as He is "wise": "Yet he also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words: but will arise against the house of the evildoers, and against the help of them that work iniquity" Isa 31:2. The man or woman who, fearing God, lives in accordance with what God expects and what is expected of him in a God-fearing society is viewed as an integrated person. He is "wise" in that his manner of life projects the fear of God and the blessing of God rests upon him. Even as the craftsman is said to be skillful in his trade, the Old Testament chakam was learning and applying wisdom to every situation in life, and the degree in which he succeeded was a barometer of his progress on the road of wisdom.

The opposite of the chakam is the "fool" or wicked person, who stubbornly refuses counsel and depends on his own understanding: "For the turning away of the simple shall slay them, and the prosperity of fools shall destroy them" Prov 1:32; cf. Deut 32:5-6; Prov 3:35.

B. Noun.

chokmah "wisdom; experience; shrewdness." This word appears 141 times in the Old Testament. Like chakam, most occurrences of this word are in Job, Proverbs, and Ecclesiastes.

The chakam seeks after chokmah, "wisdom." Like chakam, the word chokmah can refer to technical skills or special abilities in fashioning something. The first occurrence of chokmah is in Ex 28:3: "And thou shalt speak unto all that are wisehearted, whom I have filled with the spirit of wisdom, that they may make Aaron's garments to consecrate him, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office." This first occurrence of the word in the Hebrew Bible bears this out as well as the description of the workers on the tabernacle. The artisan was considered to be endowed with special abilities given to him by God: "And he hath filled him with the spirit of God, in wisdom, in understanding, and in knowledge, and in all manner of workmanship" Ex 35:31.

Chokmah is the knowledge and the ability to make the right choices at the opportune time. The consistency of making the right choice is an indication of maturity and development. The prerequisite for "wisdom" is the fear of the Lord: "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction" Prov 1:7. "Wisdom" is viewed as crying out for disciples who will do everything to pursue her Prov 1:20. The person who seeks chokmah diligently will receive understanding: "For the Lord giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding" Prov 2:6; he will benefit in his life by walking with God: "That thou mayest walk in the way of good men, and keep the paths of the righteous" Prov 2:20. The advantages of "wisdom" are many: "For length of days, and long life, and peace, shall they add to thee. Let not mercy and truth forsake thee: bind them about thy neck; write them upon the table of thine heart: so shalt thou find favor and good understanding in the sight of God and man" Prov 3:2-4. The prerequisite is a desire to follow and imitate God as He has revealed Himself in Jesus Christ, without self-reliance and especially not in a spirit of pride: "A wise man will hear, and will increase learning; and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels: to understand a proverb, and the interpretation; the words of the wise, and their dark sayings. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction" Prov 1:5-7. The fruits of chokmah are many, and the Book of Proverbs describes the characters of the chakam and chokmah. In New Testament terms the fruits of "wisdom" are the same as the fruits of the Holy Spirit; cf. "But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law" Gal 5:22-23; "But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy. And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace" James 3:17-18.

The importance of "wisdom" explains why books were written about it. Songs were composed in celebration of "wisdom" Job 28. Even "wisdom" is personified in Proverbs. Chokmah as a person stands for that divine perfection of "wisdom" which is manifest in God's creative acts. As a divine perfection it is visible in God's creative acts: "Doth not wisdom cry: and understanding put forth her voice?... I wisdom dwell with prudence, and find out knowledge of witty inventions.... The Lord possessed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old.... Then I was by him, as one brought up with him: and I was daily his delight, rejoicing always before him.... Now therefore hearken unto me, O ye children: for blessed are they that keep my ways" Prov 8:1,12,22,30,32.

The Septuagint translations are: sophos ("clever; skillful; experienced; wise; learned"); phronimos ("sensible; thoughtful; prudent; wise"); and sunetos ("intelligent; sagacious; wise"). The KJV gives these translations: "wise; wise man; cunning."

C. Verb.

chakam "to be wise, act wisely, make wise, show oneself wise." This root, which occurs 20 times in the Old Testament, appears in other Semitic languages, such as in the Akkadian word chakamu. The word means "to be wise" in Prov 23:15: "My son, if thine heart be wise, my heart shall rejoice, even mine." In Ps 119:98 chakam means "to make wise": "Thou through thy commandments hast made me wiser than mine enemies: for they are ever with me."

Daniel

(God is my judge) - the name of three men in the Bible:

1. A son of David and Abigail (I Chronicles 3:1). He is also called Chileab (II Samuel 3:3).

2. A priest of the family of Ithamar who returned with Ezra from the Captivity (Ezra 8:2). Daniel sealed the covenant in the days of Nehemiah (Nehemiah 10:6).

3. A prophet during the period of the Captivity of God's Covenant People in Babylon and Persia (Daniel 1:6-12:9; Ezekiel 14:14; Matthew 24:15). Daniel also wrote the book in the Old Testament that bears his name.

Daniel was a teenager when he was taken from Jerusalem into captivity by the Babylonians in 605 B.C. He was in his 80s when he received the vision of the prophecy of the 70 weeks (Daniel 9). In more than 60 years of his life in Babylon, Daniel faced many challenges. In all those years, he grew stronger in his commitment to God.

We know very little about Daniel's personal life. His family history is not mentioned, but he was probably from an upper-class family in Jerusalem. It seems unlikely that Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, would have selected a trainee for his court from the lower classes. Neither do we know whether Daniel married or had a family. As a servant in Nebuchadnezzar's court, he may have been castrated and made into a EUNUCH, as was common in those days. But the text does not specify that this happened. It does indicate that Daniel was a person of extraordinary abilities.

We tend to think of Daniel as a prophet because of the prophetic dimension of his book. But he also served as an advisor in the courts of foreign kings. Daniel remained in governmental service through the reigns of the kings of Babylon and into the reign of Cyrus of Persia after the Persians became the dominant world power (Daniel 1:21; 10:1).

Daniel was also a person of deep piety. His book is characterized not only by prophecies of the distant future but also by a sense of wonder at the presence of God. From his youth Daniel was determined to live by God's law in a distant land (Daniel 1).

In moments of crisis, Daniel turned first to God in prayer before turning to the affairs of state (2:14-23). His enemies even used his regularity at prayer to trap him and turn the king against him. But the grace of God protected Daniel (chap. 6).

After one of his stunning prophecies (chap. 9), Daniel prayed a noble prayer of confession for his own sins and the sins of his people. This prayer was based on Daniel's study of the Book of Jeremiah (Dan 9:2). He was a man of true devotion to God.

The book of Daniel is more than a treasure of prophetic literature. It also paints a beautiful picture of a man of God who lived out his commitment in very troubled times. We should never get so caught up in the meanings of horns and beasts that we forget the human dimension of the book-the intriguing person whose name means "My God is Judge."

Book of Daniel

A major prophetic book of the Old Testament that emphasizes the truth that God is in control of world history. The book is named for Daniel, its author and central personality, who was rescued miraculously from a den of lions after he refused to bow down and worship a pagan king.

For an outline of the book see Daniel Structure of the Book. Daniel's 12 chapters may be divided naturally into three major sections:

- (1) introductory information about Daniel (chap. 1)
- (2) narratives about Daniel and his friends during their days of captivity among the Babylonians and the Persians (chaps. 2-7)
- (3) Daniel's dreams and visions concerning the future of Israel and the end of time (chaps. 8-12).

The first chapter sets the stage for the rest of the book by introducing Daniel and his three friends, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. These four young Hebrew men were taken captive in one of the Babylonian raids against Judah in 605 B.C. Intelligent and promising, they were placed in special training as servants in the court of King Nebuchadnezzar; then their names and diets were changed to reflect Babylonian culture in an attempt to take away their Jewish identity. But Daniel and his friends rose to the challenge, proving their Jewish food was superior to the diet of the Babylonians. The young men increased in wisdom and knowledge, gaining favor in the king's court.

In the second major section of the book (chaps. 2-7), Daniel and his friends met several additional tests to prove that although they were being held captive by a pagan people, the God whom they worshiped was still in control. Daniel's three friends (renamed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego) refused to worship the pagan Babylonian gods. Cast into the fiery furnace, they emerged unharmed because of God's miraculous protection. Daniel, refusing to bow down and worship Darius, the king of Persia, was also thrown into a den of lions. But he was also saved by God's direct intervention. These tests proved that the God whom they served was superior to the pagan gods of their captors.

Daniel's skill as an interpreter of dreams is also well established in this second section of his book. He interpreted several visions and dreams for King NEBUCHADNEZZAR of Babylon and his successor BELSHAZZAR. As he revealed the meaning of the mysterious "handwriting on the wall," he made it plain that the Babylonian Empire would be defeated by the Medes and the Persians. This happened exactly as Daniel predicted (5:13-31), and he continued as a servant in the court of the conquering Persian king.

Daniel Interprets the Dream

Daniel 1:17-2:49

As for these four children, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom: and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams. ¹⁸ Now at the end of the days that the king had said he should bring them in, then the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. ¹⁹ And the king communed with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the king. ²⁰ And in all matters of wisdom and understanding, that the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and astrologers that were in all his realm. ²¹ And Daniel continued even unto the first year of king Cyrus.

Chapter 2

And in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams, wherewith his spirit was troubled, and his sleep brake from him. ² Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the astrologers, and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, for to shew the king his dreams. So they came and stood before the king. ³ And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit was troubled to know the dream. ⁴ Then spake the Chaldeans to the king in Syriack, O king, live for ever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation. ⁵ The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from me: if ye will not make known unto me the dream, with the interpretation thereof, ye shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill. ⁶ But if ye shew the dream, and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards and great honour: therefore shew me the dream, and the interpretation thereof. ⁷ They answered again and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation of it. ⁸ The king answered and said, I know of certainty that ye would gain the time, because ye see the thing is gone from me.

⁹ But if ye will not make known unto me the dream, there is but one decree for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me the interpretation thereof. ¹⁰ The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can shew the king's matter: therefore there is no king, lord, nor ruler, that asked such things at any magician, or astrologer, or Chaldean. ¹¹ And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can shew it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh. ¹² For this cause the king was angry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon. ¹³ And the decree went forth that the wise men should be slain; and they sought Daniel and his fellows to be slain. ¹⁴ Then Daniel answered with counsel and wisdom to Arioch the captain of the king's guard, which was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon: ¹⁵ He answered and said to Arioch the king's captain, Why is the decree so hasty from the king? Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel. ¹⁶ Then Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would give him time, and that he would shew the king the interpretation. ¹⁷ Then Daniel went to his house, and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions: ¹⁸ That they would desire mercies of the God of heaven concerning this secret; that Daniel and his fellows should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. ¹⁹ Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a night vision. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven. ²⁰ Daniel answered and said, Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wisdom and might are his: ²¹ And he changeth the times and the seasons: he removeth kings, and setteth up kings: he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that know understanding: ²² He revealeth the deep and secret things: he knoweth what is in the darkness, and the light dwelleth with him. ²³ I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, who hast given me wisdom and might, and hast made known unto me now what we desired of thee: for thou hast now made known unto us the king's matter. ²⁴ Therefore Daniel went in unto Arioch, whom the king had ordained to destroy the wise men of Babylon: he went and said thus unto him; Destroy not the wise men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will shew unto the king the interpretation. ²⁵ Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste and said thus unto him, I have found a man of the captives of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation. ²⁶ The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof? ²⁷ Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded cannot the wise men, the astrologers, the magicians, the soothsayers, shew unto the king; ²⁸ But there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and maketh known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these; ²⁹ As for thee, O king, thy thoughts came into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: and he that revealeth secrets maketh known to thee what shall come to pass. ³⁰ But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but for their sakes that shall make known the interpretation to the king, and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thy heart. ³¹ Thou, O king, sawest, and behold a great image. This great image, whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee; and the form thereof was terrible. ³² This image's head was of fine gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his thighs of brass, ³³ His legs of iron, his feet part of iron and part of clay. ³⁴ Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

³⁵ Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken to pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshingfloors; and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth. ³⁶ This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king. ³⁷ Thou, O king, art a king of kings: for the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom, power, and strength, and glory. ³⁸ And wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all. Thou art this head of gold. ³⁹ And after thee shall arise another kingdom inferior to thee, and another third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth. ⁴⁰ And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things: and as iron that breaketh all these, shall it break in pieces and bruise. ⁴¹ And whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, the kingdom shall be divided; but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay. ⁴² And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly broken. ⁴³ And whereas thou sawest iron mixed with miry clay, they shall mingle themselves with the seed of men: but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay. ⁴⁴ And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever. ⁴⁵ Forasmuch as thou sawest that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure.

⁴⁶ Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation and sweet odours unto him. ⁴⁷ The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth it is, that your God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reveal this secret. ⁴⁸ Then the king made Daniel a great man, and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief of the governors over all the wise men of Babylon. ⁴⁹ Then Daniel requested of the king, and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel sat in the gate of the king.

Daniel Interprets the Dream

Example 2

Daniel 4:1-37

Nebuchadnezzar the king, unto all people, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth; Peace be multiplied unto you. ² I thought it good to shew the signs and wonders that the high God hath wrought toward me. ³ How great are his signs! and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation. ⁴ I Nebuchadnezzar was at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace: ⁵ I saw a dream which made me afraid, and the thoughts upon my bed and the visions of my head troubled me. ⁶ Therefore made I a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream. ⁷ Then came in the magicians, the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers: and I told the dream before them; but they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof. ⁸ But at the last Daniel came in before me, whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods: and before him I told the dream, saying, ⁹ O Belteshazzar, master of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof.

¹⁰ Thus were the visions of mine head in my bed; I saw, and behold a tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was great. ¹¹ The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth:

¹² The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: the beasts of the field had shadow under it, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all flesh was fed of it. ¹³ I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and, behold, a watcher and an holy one came down from heaven; ¹⁴ He cried aloud, and said thus, Hew down the tree, and cut off his branches, shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit: let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches: ¹⁵ Nevertheless leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth: ¹⁶ Let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given unto him; and let seven times pass over him.

¹⁷ This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones: to the intent that the living may know that the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the basest of men.

interpretation thereof, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies. ²⁰ The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth; ²¹ Whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation: ²² It is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong: for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth. ²³ And whereas the king saw a watcher and an holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, Hew the tree down, and destroy it; yet leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him; ²⁴ This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree of the most High, which is come upon my lord the king: ²⁵ That they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, and they shall wet thee with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over thee, till thou know that the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. ²⁶ And whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the tree roots; thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the heavens do rule. ²⁷ Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the poor; if it may be a lengthening of thy tranquility. ²⁸ All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar. ²⁹ At the end of twelve months he walked in the palace of the kingdom of Babylon. ³⁰ The king spake, and said, Is not this great Babylon, that I have built for the house of the kingdom by the might of my power, and for the honour of my majesty? ³¹ While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken; The kingdom is departed from thee. ³² And they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee, until thou know that the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. ³³ The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar: and he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like birds' claws. ³⁴ And at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the most High, and I praised and honoured him that liveth for ever, whose dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom is from generation to generation: ³⁵ And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou? ³⁶ At the same time my reason returned unto me; and for the glory of my kingdom, mine honour and brightness returned unto me; and my counsellors and my lords sought unto me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent majesty was added unto me. ³⁷ Now I

Daniel – Writing On The Wall

Example 3

Daniel 5:1-31

Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand. ² Belshazzar, while he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem; that the king, and his princes, his wives, and his concubines, might drink therein. ³ Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God which was at Jerusalem; and the king, and his princes, his wives, and his concubines, drank in them. ⁴ They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone. ⁵ In the same hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaister of the wall of the king's palace: and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote. ⁶ Then the king's countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the joints of his loins were loosed, and his knees smote one against another. ⁷ The king cried aloud to bring in the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers. And the king spake, and said to the wise men of Babylon, Whosoever shall read this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom. ⁸ Then came in all the king's wise men: but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation thereof. ⁹ Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his lords were astonished. ¹⁰ Now the queen, by reason of the words of the king and his lords, came into the banquet house: and the queen spake and said, O king, live for ever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed: ¹¹ There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him; whom the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, the king, I say, thy father, made master of the magicians, astrologers, Chaldeans, and soothsayers; ¹² Forasmuch as an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, interpreting of dreams, and shewing of hard sentences, and dissolving of doubts, were found in the same Daniel, whom the king named Beltshazzar: now let Daniel be called, and he will shew the interpretation.

¹³ Then was Daniel brought in before the king. And the king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Jewry? ¹⁴ I have even heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee. ¹⁵ And now the wise men, the astrologers, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but they could not shew the interpretation of the thing: ¹⁶ And I have heard of thee, that thou canst make interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom. ¹⁷ Then Daniel answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another; yet I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation. 18 O thou king, the most high God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father a kingdom, and majesty, and glory, and honour: 19 And for the majesty that he gave him, all people, nations, and languages, trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew; and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he set up; and whom he would he put down. 20 But when his heart was lifted up, and his mind hardened in pride, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him: 21 And he was driven from the sons of men; and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses: they fed him with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven; till he knew that the most high God ruled in the kingdom of men, and that he appointeth over it whomsoever he will. 22 And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all this; 23 But hast lifted up thyself against the LORD of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou, and thy lords, thy wives, and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them; and thou hast praised the gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified: 24 Then was the part of the hand sent from him; and this writing was written. 25 And this is the writing that was written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN. 26 This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE; God hath numbered thy kingdom, and finished it. 27 TEKEL; Thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting. 28 PERES; Thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians. 29 Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with scarlet, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom. 30 In that night was Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans slain. 31 And Darius the Median took the kingdom, being about threescore and two years old.

Daniel Over the Satraps

Example 4

Daniel 6:1-5

It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom an hundred and twenty princes, which should be over the whole kingdom; ² And over these three presidents; of whom Daniel was first: that the princes might give accounts unto them, and the king should have no damage.

³ Then this Daniel was preferred above the presidents and princes, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm. ⁴ Then the presidents and princes sought to find occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdom; but they could find none occasion nor fault; forasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him. ⁵ Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God.

Joseph

Genesis 41:15

And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, I have dreamed a dream, and there is none that can interpret it: and I have heard say of thee, that thou canst understand a dream to interpret it.

Genesis 41:33

Now therefore let Pharaoh look out a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Egypt.

Genesis 41:39

And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, Forasmuch as God hath shewed thee all this, there is none so discreet and wise as thou art:

[JOE zeph] (may God add) - the name of several men in the Bible:

1. The 11th son of Jacob (Gen 30:24). Joseph was sold into slavery and later rose to an important position in the Egyptian government. The account of Joseph's life is found in Gen 37-50.

Joseph was the first child of Rachel (30:24) and his father's favorite son (37:31). This is most clearly shown by the special coat which Jacob gave to Joseph. This favoritism eventually brought serious trouble for the whole family. Joseph's ten older brothers hated him because he was Jacob's favorite and because Joseph had dreams which he interpreted to his brothers in a conceited way. It is no surprise that Joseph's brothers hated him enough to kill him (37:4).

Joseph and his family were shepherds in the land of Canaan. One day Jacob sent Joseph to search for his brothers, who were tending the flocks in the fields. When Joseph found them, they seized upon the chance to kill him. The only opposing voice was Reuben's, but they finally sold Joseph into slavery to passing merchants.

To hide the deed from their father Jacob, Joseph's brothers took his coat and dipped it in animal blood. When Jacob saw the coat, he was convinced that Joseph had been killed by a wild animal (37:34-35).

Joseph was taken to Egypt, where he was sold to POTIPHAR, an officer of the ruling pharaoh of the nation. His good conduct soon earned him the highest position in the household. Potiphar's wife became infatuated with Joseph and tempted him to commit adultery with her. When he refused, she accused him of the crime and Joseph was sent to prison.

While in prison, Joseph's behavior earned him a position of responsibility over the other prisoners. Among the prisoners Joseph met were the Pharaoh's baker and his butler. When each of them had a dream, Joseph interpreted their dreams. When the butler left prison, he failed to intercede on Joseph's behalf, and Joseph spent two more years in prison.

When the Pharaoh had dreams that none of his counselors could interpret, the butler remembered Joseph and mentioned him to the Pharaoh. Then Joseph was called to appear before the Pharaoh. He interpreted the Pharaoh's dreams, predicting seven years of plentiful food, followed by seven years of famine. He also advised the Pharaoh to appoint a commissioner to store up supplies during the plentiful years.

To Joseph's surprise, the Pharaoh appointed him as food commissioner. This was a position of great prestige. Under Joseph's care, many supplies were stored, and the land prospered (41:37-57). Joseph was given many comforts, including servants and a wife. He was called Zaphenath-Paneah, which means "revealer of secrets." When the famine struck, Joseph was second only to the Pharaoh in power. People from all surrounding lands came to buy food from him.

Many years passed between Joseph's arrival in Egypt as a slave and his rise to power in the nation during the famine. The famine also struck Canaan, and Joseph's brothers eventually came to Egypt to buy grain. When they met Joseph, they did not recognize him. He recognized them, however, and decided to test them to see if they had changed. He accused them of being spies. Then he sold them grain only on the condition that Simeon stay as a hostage until they bring Benjamin, the youngest brother, to Egypt with them.

Upon returning to Canaan, the brothers told Jacob of their experiences. He vowed not to send Benjamin to Egypt. But the continuing famine forced him to change his mind. On the next trip Benjamin went with his brothers to Egypt.

When they arrived, Joseph treated them royally, weeping openly at the sight of his youngest brother. Simeon was returned to them. After purchasing their grain, they started home. On their way home, however, they were stopped by one of Joseph's servants, who accused them of stealing Joseph's silver cup. The cup was found in Benjamin's bag, where Joseph had placed it. The brothers returned to face Joseph, who declared that Benjamin must stay in Egypt. At this point Judah pleaded with Joseph, saying that it would break their father Jacob's heart if Benjamin failed to return with them. Judah's offer to stay in Benjamin's place is one of the most moving passages in the Old Testament.

Joseph was overcome with emotion. He revealed himself to them as their brother, whom they had sold into slavery years earlier. At first Joseph's brothers were afraid that Joseph would take revenge against them, but soon they were convinced that Joseph's forgiveness was genuine. Judah's plea on Benjamin's behalf was evidence of the change that Joseph had hoped to find in his brothers. He sent them back to Canaan with gifts for his father and invited the family to come live in Egypt.

The grace of God working in the family of Jacob is evident in the way Joseph dealt with his brothers. Joseph did not want revenge against them. He realized that his personal suffering had preserved the family as an instrument of God's will. Joseph also was aware that his rise to power was for the good of his family, not for his own glory (45:7-8).

Jacob accepted Joseph's offer and moved his entire family to Egypt. During the journey, God appeared to Jacob at Beersheba, blessing him and renewing His promise about the destiny of Jacob's sons. God promised that the family would return to Canaan some day. The families of Jacob settled in the land of Goshen, where they tended the Pharaoh's herds. They remained here until Joseph's death.

After the EXODUS of the Hebrew people from Egypt years later, Joseph's faithfulness was rewarded. His two sons, Ephraim and Manassah, were counted as ancestral fathers of two tribes of Israel, although their mother was an Egyptian woman. In Ps 80:1, the word "Joseph" is used as a poetic designation for these two tribes.

Man of Understanding – Hebrew

TO UNDERSTAND

sakal "to be prudent, act wisely, give attention to, ponder, prosper." This word, which is common to both ancient and modern Hebrew, is found approximately 75 times in the text of the Hebrew Bible. Its first use in the text, in Gen 3:6, contributes to an interesting paradox, for while the forbidden fruit was "to be desired to make one wise," it was a very unwise thing to take it!

The basic meaning of sakal seems to be "to look at, to give attention to," as illustrated in this parallelism: "That they may see, and know, and consider, and understand..." Isa 41:20. From this develops the connotation of insight, intellectual comprehension: "Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom... But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me..." Jer 9:23-24. As here, it is frequently used along with and in parallelism to the Hebrew yada±, "to know" (primarily experientially). As is true of chakam, "to be wise," sakal never concerns abstract prudence, but acting prudently: "Therefore the prudent shall keep silence..." Amos 5:13; "...he hath left off to be wise..." Ps 36:3.

bin "to understand, be able, deal wisely, consider, pay attention to, regard, notice, discern, perceive, inquire." This verb, which occurs 126 times in biblical Hebrew, has cognates in Ugaritic, Arabic, Ethiopic, late Aramaic, and Syriac. Bin appears in all periods of biblical Hebrew.

Bin appears in Jer 9:12 with the meaning "to understand": "Who is the wise man, that may understand this?" In Job 6:30 the word means "to discern," and in Deut 32:7 it means "to consider."

B. Nouns.

binah "understanding." Binah appears 37 times and in all periods of biblical Hebrew even though it belongs primarily to the sphere of wisdom and wisdom literature.

TO SEE, PERCEIVE

ra°ah "to see, observe, perceive, get acquainted with, gain understanding, examine, look after (see to), choose, discover." This verb occurs only in Moabite and all periods of Hebrew. It appears in the Bible about 1,300 times.

Basically ra°ah connotes seeing with one's eyes: Isaac's "eyes were dim, so that he could not see" Gen 27:1. This is its meaning in Gen 1:4, its first biblical appearance. The word can be used in the sense of seeing only what is obvious: "...for the Lord seeth not as man seeth..." 1 Sam 16:7. This verb can also mean "to observe": "...and there were upon the roof about three thousand men and women, that beheld while Samson made sport" Judg 16:27. The second primary meaning is "to perceive," or to be consciously aware of — so idols "neither see, nor hear" Deut 4:28. Third, ra°ah can represent perception in the sense of hearing something — God brought the animals before Adam "to see what he would call them" Gen 2:19. In Isa 44:16 the verb means "to enjoy": "...I am warm, I have seen the fire." It can also mean "to realize" or "to get acquainted with": "When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done upon the earth..." Eccl 8:16. The rebellious men of Jerusalem tell God they will not "see sword nor famine"; they will not experience it Jer 5:12.

This verb has several further extended meanings. For example, ra°ah can refer to "perceiving or ascertaining" something apart from seeing it with one's eyes, as when Hagar saw that she had conceived Gen 16:4. It can represent mentally recognizing that something is true: "We saw certainly that the Lord was with thee..." Gen 26:28. Seeing and hearing together can mean "to gain understanding": "...kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider" Isa 52:15. In Mal 3:18 the verb means "to distinguish": "Then shall ye return, and discern between the righteous and the wicked...." The word can mean to consider the fact that Israel is God's people Ex 33:13.

In addition to these uses of ra°ah referring to intellectual seeing, there is seeing used in the sense of living. "To see the light" is to live life Job 3:16; cf. 33:28. It can mean "experience" in the sense of what one is aware of as he lives: "Even as I have seen, they that plow iniquity... reap the same" Job 4:8. In 2 Kings 25:19 the verb is used in the unique sense of "having trusted concourse with" when it speaks of the five advisors of the king.

A fourth idea of seeing is "to examine": "And the Lord came down to see the city and the tower..." Gen 11:5. This examining can have to do with more than looking something over; it can refer to looking after or supervising something Gen 39:23. Used in this sense ra°ah can imply looking upon with joy or pain. Hagar asked that she not be allowed to look on the death of Ishmael Gen 21:16. This verb may be used of attending to or visiting — so Jonadab said to Amnon: "...when thy father cometh to see thee, say unto him..." 2 Sam 13:5. When Joseph advised Pharaoh "to look out a man discreet and wise," he was telling him to choose or select such a man Gen 41:33. "To examine" may also be "to observe" someone in order to imitate what he does Judg 7:17, or "to discover" something (find it out; Judg 16:5).

B. Nouns.

ro°eh "seer; vision." Ro°eh, which occurs 11 times, refers to a "prophet" (emphasizing the means by which revelation was received; 1 Sam 9:9) and to "vision" Isa 28:7.

Several other nouns are related to the verb ra°ah. Re°i appears once to mean "looking-glass" Job 37:18. Ro°i, which occurs 4 times, means "looking, appearance" 1 Sam 16:12, NASB. Re±ut occurs once, and it means "look" Eccl 5:11. Mar°ah means "visionary appearance" or "(prophetic) vision" Gen 46:2 and "looking glasses" Ex 38:8; this word appears 12 times. Of its 15 occurrences the noun to°ar means "form, shape" in 1 Sam 28:14 and "stately appearance" in 1 Sam 25:3. Mar°eh occurs 103 times; this word and to°ar are descriptive of blessing in Gen 39:6: "Now Joseph was handsome in form [to°ar] and appearance [mar°eh]" (NASB). Mar°eh refers more to external "appearance" Gen 2:9, and the word can also connote "sight" as in a range of vision Lev 13:3 and "sight" in the sense of a supernatural "sight" or manifestation Ex 3:3.

INSIGHTS FROM PROVERBS

A Fool

To begin, I shall address the issue of languages. Let me create a picture to express a point.

Let us say: (These are only examples not actual numbers).

The Hebrew language has 10,000 words.

The Greek language has 5000 words.

The English language has 1000 words.

The Hebrew word for fool or foolishness has several Hebrew words with various tenses that express foolishness. When these Hebrew words were translated into the English language, they had few English words to use.

The Hebrew word akal it was rendered foolishly

The Hebrew word akal (another version) is rendered fool/foolish

The Hebrew word eviyl is rendered fool/foolish

The Hebrew word eviliy is rendered foolish

The Hebrew word ya'al is rendered fools/foolishly

The Hebrew word sikluwth is rendered folly/foolishness

The Hebrew word keciyl is rendered fool/foolish

The Hebrew word keciyluwth is rendered foolish

The Hebrew word kacal is rendered foolish

The Hebrew word ivveleth is rendered foolishness/folly

The Hebrew word ba`ar is rendered foolish/brutish

The Hebrew word nabal is rendered fool/foolish

As noted, these 12 Hebrew words were of sorts stuffed or forced into fewer English words. Many Hebrew words thus ran out of English words.

That is why the scripture encourages us to “Rightly divide the word of Truth”.

In other words when in our English or Greek language we see the word fool or foolish it is from numerous Hebrew words. Therefore, dividing or going back to the original Hebrew words gives added insights.

INSIGHTS FROM PROVERBS

A Fool

As regards to fools we see five primary stages of a fool or foolishness. There is a basic stage of moving towards being a fool called silliness, then progressively more difficult stages of getting worse. This has a parallel teaching to iniquity. The scripture says we go from iniquity to iniquity. Also, five primary stages of iniquity, (all are also progressive). We see the wonderful Hebrew language with great precise expression struggling to find enough English words.

To a somewhat lesser degree the same applies to the Greek language but still with more words than English words also struggling to find correct expression.

The Greek word moros is rendered foolish;

The Greek word asunetos is rendered foolish;

The Greek word aphron is rendered fool;

The Greek word aphnesis is rendered fool.

Therefore, to go back to the original language is to allow for a right dividing of the truth or to see perspectives of truth.

The following pages will walk us through a series of Hebrew and Greek words that express insights into fools and foolishness. These insights express a series of stages of increased foolishness.

Foolish - Hebrew

FOOL

Ewil (191), "fool." This word appears primarily in the wisdom literature. A person described by ewil generally lacks wisdom; indeed, wisdom is beyond his grasp (Prov. 24:7). In another nuance, "fool" is a morally undesirable individual who despises wisdom and discipline (Prov. 1:7; 15:5). He mocks guilt (Prov. 14:9), and is quarrelsome (Prov. 20:3) and licentious (Prov. 7:22). Trying to give him instruction is futile (Prov. 16:22).

FOOLISHNESS

Iwwelet (200), "foolishness; stupidity." This noun appears 25 times in the Old Testament. It can mean "foolishness" in the sense of violating God's law, or "sin" (Ps. 38:5). The word also describes the activities and life-style of the man who ignores the instructions of wisdom (Prov. 5:23). In another nuance, the noun means "thoughtless." Hence Iwwelet describes the way a young person is prone to act (Prov. 22:15) and the way any fool or stupid person chatters (Prov. 15:2).

Nebalah (5039), "foolishness; senselessness; impropriety; stupidity." This abstract noun appears 13 times in the Old Testament. Its use in 1 Sam. 25:25 signifies "disregarding God's will." : Nebalah is most often used as a word for a serious sin (Gen. 34:7—the first occurrence).

OT:3684 keciyl, fool, dullard.

OT:3687 keciyluwth stupidity.

kasal the verb occurs once, in Jer 10:8, where idol worshipers are called foolish. The Arabic cognate seems to have an original meaning "to be sluggish," referring to that which is thick, plump, or fat (BDB). From k¹sal come a number of derivatives.

kesîl I. Fool, dullard. This noun, except for three occurrences in Ps, is found only in Prov and Eccl. In Prov three words are rendered fool, kesîl referring to the dull or obstinate one, referring not to mental deficiency, but to a propensity to make wrong choices. 'ewîl refers to moral insolence, and nabal to the boorish man of mean disposition.

Folly and fool are opposite to wisdom and wise. Kesîl refers to a way of life that is enticing to the immature, but can lead to destruction and ruin. Qohelet sums up the argumentation for either wisdom or folly by stating that wisdom excels folly as light excels darkness (Eccl 2:1-13). Involved in this conclusion is that wisdom leads a person on the right path to the brightness of the full day while folly entices one to the way that leads into darkness (Prov 4:18-19).

INSIGHTS FROM PROVERBS

A Fool

The verb is used in the Niphal, Piel, and Hiphil. It must be distinguished from the root ʿ¹kal "to be wise" (q.v.). Robert Gordis has noted a considerable number of words possessing mutually contradictory meanings ("Studies in Hebrew Roots of Contrasted Meanings," JQR 27:33-58).

The verb usually expresses lack in a moral or spiritual sense, Thus Saul acted as a fool when he usurped the Levitical prerogative in offering sacrifices. There is more involved than simply being an intellectual fool-Saul displayed his utter lack of spiritual comprehension (1 Sam 13:13).

[The verb is mostly used in contexts where a man acts out of fear and thus behaves rashly, rather than acting wisely out of a confidence based in God. Thus David recognizes that he acted foolishly in taking the census of Israel in order to determine his military strength. It was a foolish act because he sought his security apart from God (2 Sam 24:10; 1 Chron 21:8). This practical atheism the Babylonians used to call "living in a ramanišu," i.e. living by oneself, on one's own resources, without dependence on God. But this is the essence of sin. Saul recognizes his own foolish behavior toward David, - which was caused by his unfounded fear of him (1 Sam 26:21). Laban accuses Jacob of acting foolish by slipping off at night rather than giving Laban opportunity to give them a proper send-off. Of course Jacob acted out of fear (Gen 31:28). Hanani, the seer, accuses Asa of playing the fool because out of fear he bribed the Syrians to attack Israel instead of relying on the Lord (1 Chron 16:9-10).

David prays that Ahithophel's counsel will lead to the dire consequences that come from hasty, rash behavior. His prayer was answered when Ahithophel committed suicide (2 Sam 15:31ff). God likewise turned the knowledge of pagan diviners into the calamity that stems from such behavior when he sent Cyrus to destroy Babylon (Isa 44:25).

Fool, foolish. Jeremiah's generation was foolish and without understanding, and yet it was more than a mere lack of understanding (Jer 5:21). Spiritual apostasy is foolishness. This is apparent when people are wise to evil but devoid of the knowledge to do good (Jer 4:22). Eccl underscores the spiritual and particularly moral misfit who demonstrates to all that he is a fool (Eccl 10:3, et al.).

sekel. Folly. It is a moral perversion when folly is dignified and those of no account are elevated to leadership while those to whom honor is due are demeaned (Eccl 10:6).

halal OT:1984, "to praise, celebrate, glory, sing (praise), boast." The meaning "to praise" is actually the meaning of the intensive form of the Hebrew verb halal, which in its simple active form means "to boast." In this latter sense halal is found in its cognate forms in ancient Akkadian, of which Babylonian and Assyrian are dialects. The word is found in Ugaritic in the sense of "shouting," and perhaps "jubilation." Found more than 160 times in the Old Testament, halal is used for the first time in Gen 12:15, where it is noted that because of Sarah's great beauty, the princes of Pharaoh "praised" (KJV, "commended") her to Pharaoh.

INSIGHTS FROM PROVERBS

A Fool

While halal is often used simply to indicate "praise" of people, including the king 2 Chron 23:12 or the beauty of Absalom 2 Sam 14:25, the word is usually used in reference to the "praise" of God. Indeed, not only all living things but all created things, including the sun and moon, are called upon "to praise" God Ps 148:2-5,13; 150:1. Typically, such "praise" is called for and expressed in the sanctuary, especially in times of special festivals Isa 62:9.

The Hebrew name for the Book of Psalms is simply the equivalent for the word "praises" and is a bit more appropriate than "Psalms," which comes from the Greek and has to do with the accompaniment of singing with a stringed instrument of some sort. It is little wonder that the Book of Psalms contains more than half the occurrences of halal in its various forms. Ps 113-118 are traditionally referred to as the "Hallel Psalms," because they have to do with praise to God for deliverance from Egyptian bondage under Moses. Because of this, they are an important part of the traditional Passover service. There is no reason to doubt that these were the hymns sung by Jesus and His disciples on Maundy Thursday when He instituted the Lord's Supper Matt 26:30.

The word halal is the source of "Hallelujah," a Hebrew expression of "praise" to God which has been taken over into virtually every language of mankind. The Hebrew "Hallelujah" is generally translated "Praise the Lord!" The Hebrew term is more technically translated "Let us praise Yah," the term "Yah" being a shortened form of "Yahweh," the unique Israelite name for God. The term "Yah" is found in the KJV rendering of Ps 68:4, reflecting the Hebrew text; however, the Jerusalem Bible (JB) translates it with "Yahweh." Most versions follow the traditional translation "Lord," a practice begun in Judaism before New Testament times when the Hebrew term for "Lord" was substituted for "Yahweh," although it probably means something like "He who causes to be." The Greek approximation of "Hallelujah" is found 4 times in the New Testament in the form "Alleluia" Rev 19:1,3-4,6. Christian hymnody certainly would be greatly impoverished if the term "Hallelujah" were suddenly removed from our language of praise.

A Fool

kecil OT:3684, "stupid fellow; dull person; fool." This word occurs in the Old Testament 70 times. All of its occurrences are in wisdom literature except 3 in the Psalms.

The kecil is "insolent" in religion and "stupid or dull" in wise living (living out a religion he professes). In Ps 92:6 the first emphasis is especially prominent: "A brutish man knoweth not; neither doth a fool understand this." The psalmist is describing an enemy of God who knew God and His word but, seeing the wicked flourishing, reasoned that they have the right life-style Ps 92:7. They have knowledge of God but do not properly evaluate or understand what they know. The second emphasis is especially prominent in wisdom contexts: "How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity? and the scorers delight in their scorning, and fools hate knowledge?" Prov 1:22. In such contexts the person so described rejects the claims and teachings of wisdom. However, in the Bible wisdom is the practical outworking of one's religion. Therefore, even in these contexts there is a clear connotation of insolence in religion.

Kecel means "stupidity; imperturbability; confidence." This noun occurs 6 times. It means "stupidity" in Eccl 7:25 and "confidence" in Prov 3:26. The meaning of "confidence" also appears in Job 31:24: "If I have made gold my hope...."

Foolish - Greek

A. Adjectives.

1. aphron (NT:878) signifies "without reason" (a, negative, phren, "the mind"), "want of mental sanity and sobriety, a reckless and inconsiderate habit of mind" (Hort), or "the lack of commonsense perception of the reality of things natural and spiritual... or the imprudent ordering of one's life in regard to salvation" (G. Vos, in Hastings' Bible Dic.); it is mostly translated "foolish" or "foolish ones" in the RV; Luke 11:40; 12:20; Rom 2:20; 1 Cor 15:36; 2 Cor 11:16 (twice), 19 (contrasted with phronimos, "prudent"); 12:6,11; 5:17; 2:15.

2. anoetos (NT:453) signifies "not understanding" (a, negative, noeo, "to perceive, understand"), not applying nous, "the mind," Luke 24:25; in Rom 1:14 and Gal 3:1,3 it signifies "senseless," an unworthy lack of understanding; sometimes it carries a moral reproach (in contrast with sophron, "sober-minded, selfcontrolled") and describes one who does not govern his lusts, Titus 3:3; in 1 Tim 6:9 it is associated with evil desires, lusts. See UNWISE.

3. moros (NT:3474) primarily denotes "dull, sluggish" (from a root muh, "to be silly"); hence, "stupid, foolish"; it is used (a) of persons, Matt 5:22, "Thou fool"; here the word means morally worthless, a scoundrel, a more serious reproach than "Raca"; the latter scorns a man's mind and calls him stupid; moros scorns his heart and character; hence the Lord's more severe condemnation; in 7:26, "a foolish man"; 23:17,19, "fools"; 25:2,3,8, "foolish"; in 1 Cor 3:18, "a fool"; the apostle Paul uses it of himself and his fellow-workers, in 4:10, "fools" (i. e., in the eyes of opponents); (b) of things, 2 Tim 2:23, "foolish and ignorant questionings"; so Titus 3:9; in 1 Cor 1:25, "the foolishness of God," not moria, "foolishness" as a personal quality (see C, No. 1), but adjectivally, that which is considered by the ignorant as a "foolish" policy or mode of dealing, lit., "the foolish (thing)"; so in v. 27, "the foolish (things) of the world."

4. asunetos (NT:801) denotes "without discernment," or "understanding" (a, negative, suniami, "to understand"); hence "senseless," as in the RV of Rom 1:21 (KJV, "foolish"), of the heart; in 10:19, KJV, "foolish," RV, "void of understanding. See UNDERSTANDING.

—	Chaph (khaf)	Interesting Hebrew word. In Job 33:9 it falls between transgression (i.e.) going against God fully knowing what you are doing and without crises or temptation and the word iniquity. Iniquity is in 5 progressive stages. It is generally doing things out of a wrong attitude or poor conduct and is not always doing it free of temptation. Stubbornness is said to be as iniquity. Innocent is in between (i.e.) the contrast between transgression and iniquity and being right.	—	—

Innocent Person – Hebrew

TO BE GUILTLESS

A. Verb.

naqah "to be pure, innocent." Only in Hebrew does this verb mean being "innocent." In Aramaic and Arabic it occurs with the meaning of being "clean." The verb is found 44 times in the Old Testament.

Isaiah described the future of Jerusalem as an empty ("cleaned out") city: "The gates of Zion will lament and mourn; destitute, she will sit on the ground" Isa 3:26, NIV. On the more positive side, a land may also be "cleansed" of robbers: "...every thief will be banished [KJV, "cut off"] and everyone who swears falsely will be banished" Zech 5:3, NIV.

The verb is more often used to mean being "free" (with the preposition min). The first occurrence in the Old Testament is in Gen 24:8, and is illustrative of this usage. Abraham ordered his servant to find a wife for Isaac. The servant pledged that he would fulfill his commission; however, if he did not succeed — that is, in case the woman was unwilling to make the long journey with him — Abraham would free him: "...then thou shalt be clear from this my oath..." The freedom may be from an oath (cf. Gen 24:8,41), from wrongdoing Num 5:31, or from punishment Ex 21:19; Num 5:28. The translations vary in these contexts.

The verb naqah also appears with the legal connotation of "innocence." First, a person may be declared "innocent," or "acquitted." David prayed: "Keep your servant also from willful sins.... Then will I be blameless, innocent of great transgression" Ps 19:13, NIV. On the other hand, the sinner is not "acquitted" by God: "I still dread all my sufferings, for I know you will not hold me innocent" Job 9:28, NIV. The punishment of the person who is not "acquitted" is also expressed by a negation of the verb naqah: "The Lord will not hold anyone guiltless who misuses his name" Ex 20:7, NIV; "The Lord will not leave unpunished," NEB. "I will discipline you but only with justice; I will not let you go entirely unpunished" Jer 30:11, NIV. The fate of the wicked is the judgment of God: "...the wicked shall not be unpunished: but the seed of the righteous shall be delivered [malat]" Prov 11:21.

GUILTLESS

B. Adjective.

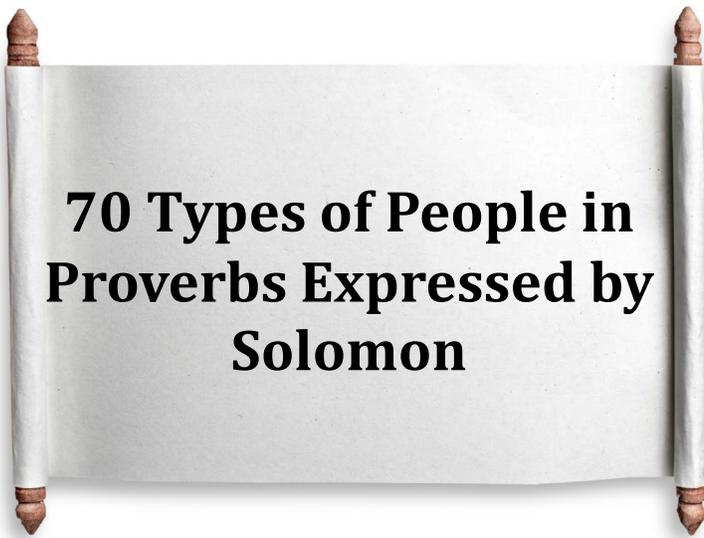

naqi "innocent." This adjective appears 43 times in the Old Testament. One occurrence is in Ps 15:5, which says of the righteous man, "...nor does he take a bribe against the innocent" (NASB).

INNOCENCE

Blamelessness, freedom from sin and guilt (Gen 20:5; Ps 26:6; Hos 8:5). Since the Fall, when Adam and Eve brought disobedience into the world (Gen 3), no one except Jesus has been totally sinless and blameless-innocent (Rom 3:9-18; 2 Cor 5:21). One may be called "innocent" only because he has been forgiven of sin and been declared a new creation through faith in Christ.

Psalms 119 Satan's Battle Against God's Ways

Satan needs a man to use. He selects a proud man – wicked – the evil man – and, if possible, a scorner.

A scorner is a man with two characteristics:

- Proud
- Haughty

Scorner is his name who deals in proud wrath. Then Satan works through this man to go against God's ways.

First - Satan is opposite of God's ways;

Second - he finds a man to use to come against you;

Third - his primary objective is to get you to give up your confidence so you turn away from God's ways.

Thus, it is his way of attempting to show God's ways do not work. He attempts to shame you to lose confidence.

The Greek word for confidence is Hupostasis. It derives from two Greek words, Hupo (under) and Stasis (to stand). To be under God's authority and leading and to stand as a result. This word is one-half of the ingredient of faith – to eliminate confidence is to then destroy faith.

Hupostasis

Hupostasis is ½ of faith

Hebrews 1:3 (Person)

Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on High;

Hebrews 3:14 (Confidence)

For we are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence steadfast unto the end;

Hebrews 11:1 (Substance)

Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

Shame then should not be accepted from a scorner if not deserved.

Proverbs 22:10

Parresia

Parresia is rendered confidence and boldness. This is a characteristic of an individual after having trusted in the Lord.

Hebrews 10:35

Cast not away your confidence, which hath great recompence of reward.

Hebrews 3:6-13

But Christ as a son over his own house; whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end. 7. Wherefore (as the Holy Ghost saith, today if ye will hear his voice, 8. Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness: 9. When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years. 10. Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, they do always err in their heart: and they have not known my ways. 11. So I swear in my wrath, they shall not enter into my rest.) 12. Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God. 13. But exhort one another daily. While it is called today; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.”

Hebrews 3:14-19

For we are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence steadfast unto the end; 15. while it is said, today if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation. 16. For some, when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of Egypt by Moses. 17. But with whom was he grieved forty years? Was it not with them that had sinned, whose carcasses fell in the wilderness? 18. And to whom swear he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not? 19. So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.”

Hebrews 4:1-12

Let us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it. 2. For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it. 3. For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, as I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the world. 4. For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, and God did rest the seventh day from all his works. 5. And in this place again, if they shall enter into my rest, 6. Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and they to whom it was first preached entered not in because of unbelief: 7. Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying in David, today, after so long a time; as it is said, today if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts. 8. For if Jesus had give them rest, then would not he afterward have spoken of another day. 9. There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God. 10. For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his. 11. Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief. 12. For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and shaper than any two-edged sword, piercing even the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, (then) have we confidence toward God.

I John 4:17

Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world.

I John 5:14

And this is the confidence that we have in him, that if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us.

The primary object of a scorner is to destroy faith by removing Hupostasis (confidence-substance)

Hebrews 11:1-6

Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen (1/2 of faith). 2 For by it the elders obtained a good report. 3 Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that the things which are seen were not made of things which do appear. 4 By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: 5 By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God. 6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

Hebrews 11:24-27

By faith Moses, when he came to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; 25 Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season; 26 Esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt: for he had respect unto the recompense of the reward. 27 By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible."

And what shall I more say? For the time would fail me to tell of Gideon, and of Barak, and of Samson, and of Jephthae, of David also, and Samuel, and of the prophets. 33 Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, 34 Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens. 35 Women received their dead raised to life again: and others were tortured, not accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection: 36 And others had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover of bonds and imprisonment: 37 They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword: they wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, tormented; 38 (of whom the world was not worthy:) they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth. 39 And these all, having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise:"

Hebrews 12:12-17

Wherefore lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees 13 And make straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way; but let it rather be healed. 14 Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord: 15 Looking diligently lest any man fail of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled; 16 Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright. 17 For ye know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.

Hebrews 12:28-29

Hebrews 13:13

To then eliminate confidence (Hupostasis) one must accept shame from a scorners or other person that is not deserved. Therefore, to destroy faith one must remove confidence. A method used by a scorners is to impute shame.

The Greek word, Kataischuno (kata – aischuno) is from two words – intensively down and to put down. (also rendered confound, dishonor, shame).

It means to have a feeling of shame or fear which prevents a person from doing a thing;

Or

A feeling of shame arising from something that has been done.

1. There is shame from doing wrong.
2. There is imputed shame from another to us to convince us we did wrong.
 - a) Sometimes rightfully
 - b) Sometimes wrongfully
3. It is also a Greek word to describe shame. Shame when standing before God at the judgment.

However, when kata is before the Greek word aischuno, it is generally imputed shame – to be put to shame – to dishonor – to disgrace.

Romans 5:1-5

Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; 2 By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. 3 And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also: knowing that tribulation worketh patience; 4 And patience, experience; and experience, hope: 5 And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.” (maketh ashamed is the Greek word Kataischuno).

Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, behold, I lay in Zion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded 7 Unto you therefore which believe he is precious: but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner, 8 And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient: whereunto also they were appointed. 9 But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light: 10 Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

But if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God. 21 For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps: 22 Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth: 23 Who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously:

Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous: 9 Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing. 10 For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile. 11 Let him eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and ensue it. 12 For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil. 13 And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good? 14 But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye: and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled; 15 But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear: 16 Having a good conscience; that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evildoers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ. 17 For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing. 18 For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit:

I Peter 5:6-10

Humble yourselves therefore under the might hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time: 7 Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you. 8 Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour: 9 Whom resist steadfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world. 10 But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you."

Scorner

Greek - scorn – kata (down) gelao (a jest or laugh of incredulity – to deride)

To deride – to be shocked at another’s actions because they see that any action apart from how they think is stupid. A laughter of mocking. To put down through professional mocking.

Haughty – Hoper (over) Phaenomai (“to appear”)

To be pre-eminent – rendered haughty – arrogant – disdainful – proud.

To manifest – or show oneself above others – to appear pre-eminent.

Anger – (Orge) As different from wrath (Thumos)

An agitated feeling from inward indignation.

Greek thumos expresses more the inward feeling – orge the emotion – very reactionary.

To put both Greek words together is to get “the fierceness of reactionary attack”.

Wrath – Hebrew – Ger-rah

Genesis 49:7

.. their wrath was cruel ... – rage

A Scorner is Proud Knowing Nothing

I Timothy 6:4-5

He is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, 5 Perverse disputings of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, supposing that gain is godliness: from such withdraw thyself.

The word NOTHING is used: it is from the Greek word, “meden” generally rendered “no man”, as well – it means “no one” ... it is negative ... in warnings, prohibitions, etc., in expressing impossibilities.

I Timothy 6:4

... intimating a supposition to the contrary.

The meaning in I Timothy 6:4 is to be proud, not understanding people “at all.” It is to know nothing of people – mostly because the word proud in the Old Testament used for a scorner is “to be as God” and haughty, “to be preeminent over men.

Proverbs 13:1-25

A wise son heareth his father's instruction: but a scorner heareth not rebuke. 2 A man shall eat good by the fruit of his mouth: but the soul of the transgressors shall eat violence. 3 He that keepeth his mouth keepeth his life: but he that openeth wide his lips shall have destruction. 4 The soul of the sluggard desireth, and hath nothing: but the soul of the diligent shall be made fat. 5 A righteous man hateth lying: but a wicked man is loathsome, and cometh to shame. 6 Righteousness keepeth him that is upright in the way: but wickedness overthroweth the sinner. 7 There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing: there is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great riches. 8 The ransom of a man's life are his riches: but the poor heareth not rebuke. 9 The light of the righteous rejoiceth: but the lamp of the wicked shall be put out. 10 Only by pride cometh contention: but with the well advised is wisdom. 11 Wealth gotten by vanity shall be diminished: but he that gathereth by labour shall increase. 12 Hope deferred maketh the heart sick: but when the desire cometh, it is a tree of life. 13 Whoso despiseth the word shall be destroyed: but he that feareth the commandment shall be rewarded. 14 The law of the wise is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death. 15 Good understanding giveth favour: but the way of transgressors is hard. 16 Every prudent man dealeth with knowledge: but a fool layeth open his folly. 17 A wicked messenger falleth into mischief: but a faithful ambassador is health. 18 Poverty and shame shall be to him that refuseth instruction: but he that regardeth reproof shall be honoured. 19 The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul: but it is abomination to fools to depart from evil. 20 He that walketh with wise men shall be wise: but a companion of fools shall be destroyed. 21 Evil pursueth sinners: but to the righteous good shall be repayed. 22 A good man leaveth his inheritance to his children's children: and the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the just. 23 Much food is in the tillage of the poor: but there is that is destroyed for want of judgment. 24 He that spareth his rod hateth his son: but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes. 25 The righteous eateth to the satisfaction of his soul: but the belly of the wicked shall want.

Proverbs 14:1-6

Every wise woman buildeth her house: but the foolish plucketh it down with her hands. 2 He that walketh in his uprightness feareth the Lord: but he that is perverse in his ways despiseth him. 3 In the mouth of the foolish is a rod of pride: but the lips of the wise shall preserve them. 4 Where no oxen are, the crib is clean: but much increase is by the strength of the ox. 5 A faithful witness will not lie: but a false witness will utter lies. 6 A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easy unto him that understandeth.

Psalms 37

Fret not thyself because of evildoers, Neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity. 2 For they shall soon be cut down like the grass, And wither as the green herb. 3 Trust in the LORD, and do good; So shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed. 4 Delight thyself also in the LORD; And he shall give thee the desires of thine heart. 5 Commit thy way unto the LORD; Trust also in him; And he shall bring it to pass. 6 And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, And thy judgment as the noonday. 7 Rest in the LORD, and wait patiently for him: Fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass. 8 Cease from anger, and forsake wrath: Fret not thyself in any wise to do evil. 9 For evildoers shall be cut off: But those that wait upon the LORD, they shall inherit the earth. 10 For yet a little while, and the

The wicked plotteth against the just, And gnasheth upon him with his teeth.

13 The Lord shall laugh at him: For he seeth that his day is coming. 14 The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow, To cast down the poor and needy, and to slay such as be of upright conversation. 15 Their sword shall enter into their own heart, And their bows shall be broken. 16 A little that a righteous man hath is better Than the riches of many wicked. 17 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken: But the LORD upholdeth the righteous. 18 The LORD knoweth the days of the upright: And their inheritance shall be for ever. 19 They shall not be ashamed in the evil time: And in the days of famine they shall be satisfied. 20 But the wicked shall perish, And the enemies of the LORD shall be as the fat of lambs: They shall consume; into smoke shall they consume

23 The steps of a good man are ordered by the LORD: And he delighteth in his way. 24 Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down: For the LORD upholdeth him with his hand. 25 I have been young, and now am old; Yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread. 26 He is ever merciful, and lendeth; And his seed is blessed. 27 Depart from evil, and do good; And dwell for

SCORN

Mockery, ridicule, or contempt. This concept appears in several passages in the Bible. Among the more significant is Ps 22:7, where Jesus Christ is prophesied as One who will become the object of scorn. This is because of the seeming contradiction between His claims and His death in suffering and disgrace. In the same way, those who continue to follow the Lord in the midst of adverse circumstances are scorned by others (Ps 44:13; 79:4). Nevertheless, the righteous will be vindicated as Christ was in His resurrection. Therefore, God's blessing rests on those who refuse to join with the scornful (Ps 1:1).

SCORNFUL

The act of expressing contempt toward others (Ps 1:1). The scornful are proud, arrogant people who scoff at the way of peace and make mockery of goodness. Also see SCOFFERS.

SCOFFER

One who shows contempt by mocking, sneering, or scorning (Gen 21:9; Ps 73:8). Unlike the good man, who walks the path of wisdom, the scoffer is a wicked man who follows the path of folly, refusing to listen to the wisdom of others.

SCORN (Heb. sehoq). Spoken of the wild donkey, having contempt for civilization (Job 39:7). In 39:18 the same word is used of the ostrich who "laughs at the horse and his rider." In Isa 29:20 the "scorner" ("mockers," NIV) is one who "will be finished" (Heb. lus, "to make mouths, deride," elsewhere "scoffer"). See Scoffer; Laugh; Derision; Disdain; Mock.

LAUGH, LAUGH TO SCORN

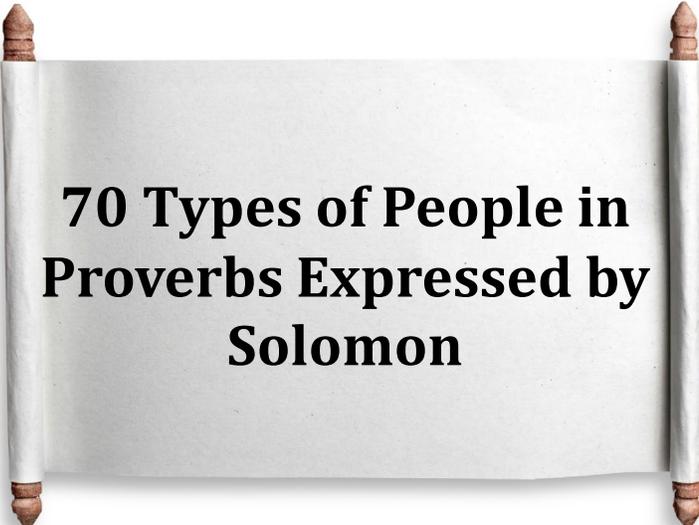

1. gelao "to laugh," is found in Luke 6:21,25. This signifies loud laughter in contrast to demonstrative weeping.

2. katagelao denotes "to laugh scornfully at," more emphatic than No. 1 (kata, "down," used intensively, and No. 1), and signifies derisive laughter, Matt 9:24; Mark 5:40; Luke 8:53. Cf. ekmukterizo, "to deride."

Note: The laughter of incredulity, as in Gen 17:17 and 18:12, is not mentioned in the NT.

Evil, Furious, Mischievous, & Bloodthirsty - Hebrew

LOOSE CONDUCT

zimmah "loose conduct; lewdness." The 28 occurrences of this noun are all in legal and poetical books of the Bible, except for a single occurrence in Judges.

This noun signifies "loose or infamous conduct" and is used most often with regard to illicit sexual conduct: "Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of a woman and her daughter,... or her daughter's daughter, to uncover her nakedness; for they are her near kinswomen: it is wickedness" Lev 18:17 — the first occurrence. Rejection of God's law or spiritual adultery may be represented by zimmah Ps 119:150; cf. Ezek 16:12-28. A plan or scheme identified by the word is, therefore, a "harlotrous" plan Ps 26:10.

mezimmah, "purpose; evil device; evil thoughts; discretion." This noun occurs 19 times. The word means "purpose" in Job 42:2: "I know that thou canst do all things, and that no purpose of time can be thwarted" (RSV). Mezimmah refers to "evil device" in Jer 11:15: "What hath my beloved to do in mine house, seeing she hath wrought lewdness with many...." In Job 21:27 the word is used to mean "evil thoughts," and in Prov 1:4 the word is used for "discretion."

zamam, "to ponder, to cogitate." The noun mezimmah is derived from this verb that occurs 13 times. In Zech 8:14-15 the word appears to carry the sense of "to ponder": "For thus saith the Lord of hosts; As I thought to punish you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath... and I repented not: So again have I thought in these days to do well unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah: fear ye not."

A. Nouns.

°awen "iniquity; vanity; sorrow." Some scholars believe that this term has cognates in the Arabic words

'ana

, ("to be fatigued, tired") and

'aynun

("weakness; sorrow; trouble"), or with the Hebrew word °ayin ("nothingness").

This relationship would imply that °awen means the absence of all that has true worth; hence, it would denote "moral worthlessness," as in the actions of wrongdoing, evil devising, or false speaking.

Other scholars believe that the term implies a "painful burden or difficulty" — i. e., that sin is a toilsome, exhausting load of "trouble and sorrow," which the offender causes for himself or others. This meaning is indicated in Ps 90:10: "The days of our years are three score years and ten; and if by reason of strength they be fourscore years, yet is their strength labor and sorrow [RSV, "trouble"]...." A similar meaning appears in Prov 22:8: "He that soweth iniquity shall reap vanity [°awen]: and the rod of his anger shall fail."

°Awen may be a general term for a crime or offense, as in Mic 2:1: "Woe to them that devise iniquity..." (cf. Isa 1:13). In some passages, the word refers to falsehood or deception: "The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit: he hath left off to be wise, and to do good" Ps 36:3. "For the idols have spoken vanity [NASB, "iniquity"]..." Zech 10:2. Isa 41:29 portrays idols deceiving their worshipers: "Behold, they are all vanity; their works are nothing: Their molten images are wind and confusion."

°asham "sin; guilt; guilt offering; trespass; trespass offering." Cognates appear in Arabic as 'ithmun ("sin; offense; misdeed; crime"), 'athima ("to sin, err, slip"), and 'athimun ("sinful; criminal; evil; wicked"); but the Arabic usage does not include the idea of restitution. In the Ugaritic texts of Ras Shamra, the word atm occurs in similar passages. Scholars believe this Ugaritic word may mean "offense" or "guilt offering," but this cannot be ascertained.

°Asham implies the condition of "guilt" incurred through some wrongdoing, as in Gen 26:10: "And Abimelech said,... one of the people might lightly have lain with thy wife, and thou shouldest have brought guiltiness upon us." The word may also refer to the offense itself which entails the guilt: "For Israel hath not been forsaken... though their land was filled with sin against the Holy One of Israel" Jer 51:5. A similar meaning of the word appears in Ps 68:21: "But God shall wound the head of his enemies and the hairy scalp of such a one as goeth on still in his trespasses [RSV, "guilty ways"; NASH, "guilty deeds"]."

INSIGHTS FROM PROVERBS

Evil, Furious, Mischievous, & Bloodthirsty

Most occurrences of °asham refer to the compensation given to satisfy someone who has been injured, or to the "trespass offering" or "guilt offering" presented on the altar by the repentant offender after paying a compensation of six-fifths of the damage inflicted Num 5:7-8. The "trespass offering" was the blood sacrifice of a ram: "And he shall bring a ram without blemish out of the flock, with thy estimation, for a trespass offering, unto the priest: and the priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his ignorance wherein he erred and wist it not, and it shall be forgiven him" Lev 5:18; cf. Lev 7:5,7; 14:12-13. The most significant theological statement containing °asham is in Isa 53:10, which says that the servant of Yahweh was appointed as an °asham for sinful mankind. This suggests that His death furnished a 120- percent compensation for the broken law of God.

±amal "evil; trouble; misfortune; mischief; grievance; wickedness; labor." This noun is related to the Hebrew verb ±amal ("to labor, toil"). The Arabic cognate means "to get tired from hard work." The Aramaic ±amal means "make" or "do," with no necessary connotation of burdensome labor. The Phoenician Canaanite usage of this term was closer to the Arabic; the Book of Ecclesiastes (which shows considerable Phoenician influence) clearly represents this use: "Yea, I hated all my labor which I had taken under the sun..." Eccl 2:18. "And also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labor..." Eccl 3:13. A related example appears in Ps 107:12: "Therefore he brought down their heart with labor; they fell down and there was none to help."

In general, ±amal refers either to the trouble and suffering which sin causes the sinner or to the trouble that he inflicts upon others. Jer 20:18 depicts self-inflicted sorrow: "Wherefore came I forth out of the womb to see labor [±amal] and sorrow [yagon], that my days should be consumed with shame?" Another instance is found in Deut 26:7: "And when we cried unto the Lord God of our fathers, the Lord heard our voice, and looked on our affliction [°oni], and our labor [±amal], and our oppression [lachats]."

Job 4:8 illustrates the sense of trouble as mischief inflicted on others: "...they that plow iniquity [°awen], and sow wickedness [±amal] reap the same." The word appears in Ps 140:9: "As for the head of those that compass me about, let the mischief of their own lips cover them." Hab 1:3 also refers to the trouble inflicted on others: "Why dost thou show me iniquity [°awen], and cause me to behold grievance [±amal]? For spoiling and violence are before me; and there are that raise up strife and contention."

°awon "iniquity." This word is derived from the root ±awah, which means "to be bent, bowed down, twisted, perverted" or "to twist, pervert." The Arabic cognate ±awa means "to twist, bend down"; some scholars regard the Arabic term

Evil, Furious, Mischievous, & Bloodthirsty

Ghara ("to err from the way") as the true cognate, but there is less justification for this interpretation.

±Awon portrays sin as a perversion of life (a twisting out of the right way), a perversion of truth (a twisting into error), or a perversion of intent (a bending of rectitude into willful disobedience). The word "iniquity" is the best single-word equivalent, although the Latin root iniquitas really means "injustice; unfairness; hostile; adverse."

±Awon occurs frequently throughout the Old Testament in parallelism with other words related to sin, such as chatta^ot ("sin") and pasha^o ("transgression"). Some examples are 1 Sam 20:1: "And David... said before Jonathan, what have I done? what is mine iniquity [±awon]? and what is my sin [chatta^ot] before thy father, that he seeketh my life?" cf. Isa 43:24; Jer 5:25. Also note Job 14:17

Evil, Furious, Mischievous, & Bloodthirsty - Greek

EVIL, EVIL-DOER

A. Adjectives.

1. kakos stands for "whatever is evil in character, base," in distinction (wherever the distinction is observable) from poneros (see No. 2), which indicates "what is evil in influence and effect, malignant." Kakos is the wider term and often covers the meaning of poneros. Kakos is antithetic to kalos, "fair, advisable, good in character," and to agathos, "beneficial, useful, good in act"; hence it denotes what is useless, incapable, bad; poneros is essentially antithetic to chrestos, "kind, gracious, serviceable"; hence it denotes what is destructive, injurious, evil. As evidence that poneros and kakos have much in common, though still not interchangeable, each is used of thoughts, cf. Matt 15:19 with Mark 7:21; of speech, Matt 5:11 with 1 Peter 3:10; of actions, 2 Tim 4:18 with 1 Thess 5:15; of man, Matt 18:32 with 24:48.

The use of kakos may be broadly divided as follows: (a) of what is morally or ethically "evil," whether of persons, e. g., Matt 21:41; 24:48; Phil 3:2; Rev 2:2, or qualities, emotions, passions, deeds, e. g., Mark 7:21; John 18:23,30; Rom 1:30; 3:8; 7:19,21; 13:4; 14:20; 16:19; 1 Cor 13:5; 2 Cor 13:7; 1 Thess 5:15; 1 Tim 6:10; 2 Tim 4:14; 1 Peter 3:9,12; (b) of what is injurious, destructive, baneful, pernicious, e. g., Luke 16:25; Acts 16:28; 28:5; Titus 1:12; James 3:8; Rev 16:2, where kakos and poneros come in that order, "noisome and grievous." See B, No. 3. For compounds of kakos, see below.

2. poneros, akin to ponos, "labor, toil," denotes "evil that causes labor, pain, sorrow, malignant evil" (see No. 1); it is used (a) with the meaning bad, worthless, in the physical sense, Matt 7:17-18; in the moral or ethical sense, "evil," wicked; of persons, e. g., Matt 7:11; Luke 6:45; Acts 17:5; 2 Thess 3:2; 2 Tim 3:13; of "evil" spirits, e. g., Matt 12:45; Luke 7:21; Acts 19:12-13,15-16; of a generation, Matt 12:39,45; 16:4; Luke 11:29; of things, e. g., Matt 5:11; 6:23; 20:15; Mark 7:22; Luke 11:34; John 3:19; 7:7; Acts 18:14; Gal 1:4; Col 1:21; 1 Tim 6:4; 2 Tim 4:18; Heb 3:12; 10:22; James 2:4; 4:16; 1 John 3:12; 2 John 11; 3 John 10; (b) with the meaning toilsome, painful, Eph 5:16; 6:13; Rev 16:2. Cf. poneria, "iniquity, wickedness." For its use as a noun see B, No. 2.

3. phaulos primarily denotes "slight, trivial, blown about by every wind"; then, "mean, common, bad," in the sense of being worthless, paltry or contemptible, belonging to a low order of things; in John 5:29, those who have practiced "evil" things, RV, "ill" (phaula), are set in contrast to those who have done good things (agatha); the same contrast is presented in Rom 9:11 and 2 Cor 5:10, in each of which the most authentic mss. have phaulos for kakos; he who practices "evil"

INSIGHTS FROM PROVERBS

things (RV, "ill") hates the light, John 3:20; jealousy and strife are accompanied by "every vile deed," James 3:16. It is used as a noun in Titus 2:8 (see B, No. 4). See

BAD, ILL, VILE.

B. Nouns.

1. kakia primarily, "badness" in quality (akin to A, No. 1), denotes (a) "wickedness, depravity, malignity," e. g., Acts 8:22, "wickedness"; Rom 1:29, "maliciousness"; in James 1:21, KJV, "naughtiness"; (b) "the evil of trouble, affliction," Matt 6:34, only, and here alone translated "evil." See MALICE, MALICIOUSNESS, NAUGHTINESS,

WICKEDNESS.

2. poneros the adjective (A, No. 2), is used as a noun, (a) of Satan as the "evil" one, Matt 5:37; 6:13; 13:19,38; Luke 11:4 (in some texts); John 17:15; Eph 6:16; 2 Thess 3:3; 1 John 2:13-14; 3:12; 5:18-19; (b) of human beings, Matt 5:45; (probably v. 39); 13:49; 22:10; 6:35; 5:13; (c) neuter, "evil (things)," Matt 9:4; 12:35; Mark 7:23; Luke 3:19; "that which is evil," Luke 6:45; Rom 12:9; Acts 28:21, "harm."

3. kakon the neuter of A, No. 1, is used with the article, as a noun, e. g., Acts 23:9; Rom 7:21; Heb 5:14; in the plural, "evil things," e. g., 1 Cor 10:6; 1 Tim 6:10, "all kinds of evil," RV.

4. phaulon the neuter of A, No. 3, is used as a noun in Titus 2:8.

5. kakopoios properly the masculine gender of the adjective, denotes an "evil-doer" (kakon, "evil," poieo, "to do"), 1 Peter 2:12,14; 4:15; in some mss. in 3:16 and John 18:30 (so the KJV). For a synonymous word see Note (1). Cf. the verb below. In the Sept., Prov 12:4; 24:19. See MALEFACTOR.

Notes: (1) Kakourgos, "an evil-worker" (kakon, "evil," ergon, "a work"), is translated "evil-doer" in 2 Tim 2:9, KJV (RV, "malefactor"). Cf. Luke 23:32-33,39.

(2) Adikema, "an injustice" (a, negative, *dikaio*s, "just"), is translated "evil-doing," in Acts 24:20, KJV, RV, "wrong-doing." See INIQUITY, WRONG.

C. Verbs.

1. kakoo "to ill-treat" (akin to A, No. 1), is rendered "to entreat evil" in Acts 7:6,19; "made (them) evil affected," 14:2. See AFFECT, AFFLICT, HARM, HURT, VEX.

2. kakopoieo signifies "to do evil" (cf. B, No. 5), Mark 3:4 (RV, "to do harm"); so, Luke 6:9; in 3 John 11, "doeth evil"; in 1 Peter 3:17, "evil doing." See HARM.

Note: Cf. kakologeio, "to speak evil" (see CURSE, SPEAK); kakopatheo, "to endure evil" (see ENDURE, SUFFER); kakopatheia, suffering affliction" (see SUFFER); kakoucheo, "to suffer adversity" (see SUFFER).

kakos "badly, evilly," akin to A, No. 1, is used in the physical sense, "to be sick," e. g., Matt 4:24; Mark 1:32,34; Luke 5:31 (see DISEASE). A Froward Person

A Froward Person

The command to us is to “Hate Evil”. It then describes ingredients of evil:

- (1) Pride,
- (2) Arrogancy
- (3) The evil way
- (4) The froward mouth

This person thinks that life centers around them (pride). They act in such a way it does get them attention and/or reaction. Knowledge is a serious promoter of pride, (knowledge puffs up). As time goes by, they learn how to express their pride, so it gets more response. This leads to the person believing they really are special (arrogancy). They now turn to manipulation of others to maintain their special status they think they have in this arrogancy. This manipulation is called the evil way. It leads to reaction from people and they resort to talking and acting unreasonably (i.e.)(froward mouth/frowardness).

Proverbs 8:13

The fear of the Lord is to hate evil: pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate.

Proverbs 10:32

The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh *frowardness.

This leads a person with this problem to be a problem for people. The pride leads to contention. “Only by pride cometh contention: but with the well advised is wisdom.”

Proverbs 13:10

It then leads to a problem with strife. A person who struggles with pride “kindles” strife. As it gets worse in their life and arrogancy sets in they tend to “sow” strife.

Proverbs 16:28

A froward man soweth strife: and a whisperer separateth chief friends.

This sowing strife is from a person who is covetous, stubborn, disloyal, and exaggerates (blows things out of proportion to scare others into doing things their way). Of the 5 progressive levels of fools, this is the 3rd level.

Proverbs 19:1

Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity, than he that is perverse in his lips, and is a fool.

Let us look more at sowing discord

Proverbs 6:16-19

These six things doth the LORD hate: yea, seven are an abomination unto him: ¹⁷ A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, ¹⁸ An heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief, ¹⁹ A false witness that speaketh lies, and he that soweth discord among brethren.

Notice God hates only 6 of the 7. The reason He does not hate “sowing discord” is because it is telling the truth about a person with the intent to hurt them (this is an abomination). An abomination deals with “the motive of the heart” being wrong.

Proverbs 11:20

They that are of a froward heart are abomination to the Lord: but such as are upright in their way are his delight.

Proverbs 6:14

Frowardness is in his heart, he deviseth mischief continually; he soweth discord.

A Wicked Person Speaks Frowardness

Proverbs 10:32

The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh frowardness.

Psalms 101:4

A froward heart shall depart from me: I will not know a wicked person.

Proverbs 6:12

A naughty person, a wicked man, walketh with a froward mouth.

A Froward Person At Their Worst Will Suffer

Proverbs 22:5

Thorns and snares are in the way of the froward: he that doth keep his soul shall be far from them.

Proverbs 17:20

He that hath a froward heart findeth no good: and he that hath a perverse tongue falleth into mischief.

Proverbs 3:32

For the froward is abomination to the Lord: but his secret is with the righteous.

Froward – Hebrew

tahpukah - (tah-poo-kaw')

A perversity or fraud: KJV - (very) froward (-ness, thing), perverse thing. This root together with its derivatives appears 118 times in the OT. The verb accounts for the majority of these, being used ninety-four times (Qal, fifty-five times; Niphal thirty-four times; Hophal, once; Hithpael, four times).

The root h¹pak figures prominently in connection with three themes of Scripture. First, it is found in association with the expression of God's anger and wrath upon unrepentant Sodom and Gomorrah: Gen 19:21,25,29; Deut 29:22 *; Isa 13:19; Jer 20:16; Jer 49:18; Jer 50:40; Amos 4:11; Lam 4:6. Perhaps the use of this verb will shed light on the exact nature of the catastrophe. That it was a volcanic eruption seems unlikely. On the other hand, to translate h¹pak in these instances as "annihilate" would suggest the disastrous effects of an earthquake, accompanied by lightning which ignited the natural gases of the Jordan Valley area, producing the terrible inferno (and cf. Job 28:5).

By extension, God promises the same treatment to Jerusalem (2 Kings 21:13); Nineveh (Jonah 3:4); the unbelieving nations (Hag 2:22; parallel with š¹mad) and generally "the wicked" (Prov 12:7). Man is also capable of "overthrowing" (i.e. reducing to vassalage) another city (1 Chron 19:3; 2 Sam 10:3) or even mountains (Job 28:9, something God does too, Job 9:5).

The second theme of Scripture in the development of which h¹pak appears frequently is the miracles surrounding Israel's exodus from Egypt and her pilgrimage in the wilderness. Most often the verb describes God's actions in turning the Nile into blood (Ex 7:17,20; Ps 78:44; Ps 105:29, and cf. the reference to the streams of Edom becoming pitch in Isa 34:9). The mind of Pharaoh and his servants was "changed" upon hearing of the escape of the Israelites (Ex 14:5); God even "turned" the hearts of the Egyptians to hate his people (Ps 105:25). To make Israel's escape good God "turned" the sea into dry land (Ps 66:6). The Lord "turned" a strong west wind which drove the locusts into the Red Sea (Ex 10:19). God had "turned" the rod into a serpent (Ex 7:15). He "turned" the rock unto a pool of water (Ps 114:8). While passing through the territory of Moab Israel was the intended recipient of a curse from the hired professional seer Balaam, but God "turned" Balaam's curse into a blessing (Deut 23:6 *; Neh 13:2).

The third theme is the biblical description of the symptoms of leprosy as described in Lev 13. In this one chapter the root h¹pak appears nine times (Lev 13:3,4,10,13,16,17,20,25,55), mostly in connection with the hair turning white as a sign of leprosy.

Elsewhere it is of interest to note that h¹pak in the translation "to turn" is neutral in meaning, as is one of its synonyms šûb. That is, it may mean to turn (from) good to bad with either God or man as the subject. "I will turn your feasts into mourning" (Amos 8:10). "Against me he turns his hand" (in judgment as opposed to blessing, Lam 3:3).

INSIGHTS FROM PROVERBS

A Froward Person

With man as the subject cf. "you have turned into a degenerate vine (Jer 2:21); "those whom I love have turned against me (Job 19:19); "you have turned justice into poison" (Amos 6:12). It may indicate a change in attitude from joy to chagrin (with man, Lam 1:20; with God, Hos 11:8).

On the other hand, h¹pak may be used positively in the sense of turning the doleful into the joyful, the bad into the good. Cf. "I will turn their mourning into joy" (Jer 31:13 and also Ps 30:12 *). "He turned the curse of Balaam into a blessing" (Deut 23:6 * and Neh 13:2). "He (i.e. Saul) shall be changed into another man" (1 Sam 10:6). This root is used to describe the about-face in the fortunes of the diasporic Jews living in Babylon in the days of Persian hegemony: Est 9:1,22.

hepek. Contrary, contrariness, perversity, a substantive that occurs three times in the OT: Ezek 16:34 (twice) in a graphic description of Judah's life of harlotry; and in Isa 29:16 "o your distortions" (of Israel).

h¹pkâ. Overthrow, a noun only in Gen 19:29 in connection with Sodom and Gomorrah.

mahpkâ. Overthrow. Five of its six uses refer to God's action on Sodom and Gomorrah, the exception being Isa 1:7.

mahpeket. Stocks, Jer 20:2-3; Jer 29:26; 2 Chron 16:10. It may not be clear what shape these ancient stocks took. Probably they were quite different from those of colonial days, but the details are not certain.

tahp¹kâ. Perversity. Of its nine uses eight are in Proverbs (and cf Deut 32:20). This substantive is always translated by the KJV as "froward" or "frowardness" except Prov 23:33 and in the RSV by "perverse, perverted, perverseness." It is a sin connected mostly with the mouth (Prov 2:12; Prov 10:31-32; Prov 16:30) and also with the heart (Prov 6:14); the eyes (Prov 16:30); and the mind (Prov 23:33).

FROWARD see CROOKED

skolios, "curved, crooked," was especially used (a) of a way, Luke 3:5, with spiritual import (see Prov 28:18, Sept.); it is set in contrast to orthos and euthus, "straight"; (b) metaphorically, of what is morally "crooked," perverse, froward, of people belonging to a particular generation, Acts 2:40 (KJV, "untoward"); Phil 2:15; of tyrannical or unjust masters, 1 Peter 2:18, "froward"; in this sense it is set in contrast to agathos, "good."

Wicked Person - Hebrew

WICKED

rasha± wicked; ungodly; guilty." Rasha± occurs only in Hebrew and late Aramaic. The word occurs about 260 times as a noun or an adjective and especially in the poetic literature of the Old Testament. It is rare in the Pentateuch and in the historical books. Its frequency increases in the prophetic books.

The narrow meaning of rasha± lies in the concept of "wrongdoing" or "being in the wrong." It is a legal term. The person who has sinned against the law is guilty: "They that forsake the law praise the wicked: but such as keep the law contend with them" Prov 28:4. When in Israel's history justice did not prevail, the "guilty" were acquitted: "...when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn" Prov 29:2; cf. 2 Chron 6:23.

Rasha± also denotes the category of people who have done wrong, are still living in sin, and are intent on continuing with wrongdoing. This is the more general meaning of the word. The first psalm exhorts the godly not to imitate the deeds and behavior of the ungodly, wicked people. The "wicked" does not seek God Ps 10:4; he challenges God Ps 10:13. In his way of life the "wicked" loves violence Ps 11:5, oppresses the righteous Ps 17:9, does not repay his debts Ps 37:21, and lays a snare to trap the righteous Ps 119:110. Ps 37 gives a vivid description of the acts of the "wicked" and also of God's judgment upon them. Facing the terrible force of the "wicked," the righteous prayed for God's deliverance and for His judgment upon them. This theme of judgment has already been anticipated in Ps 1:6: "For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish." The expectation of the righteous includes God's judgment on the "wicked" in this life that they might be ashamed Ps 31:17, be overcome by sorrows Ps 32:10, fall by their devices Ps 141:10, and die a premature death Prov 10:27, and that their remembrance will be no more Prov 10:7. It is expected that at the time of their death there will be great shouting: "When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth: when the wicked perish, there is shouting" Prov 11:10.

The judgment upon the "wicked" is particularly strong in Proverbs, where the authors contrast the advantages of wisdom and righteousness and the disadvantages of the "wicked" (cf. 2:22: "But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it"). In Job another theme finds expression: why are the "wicked" not cut off? "Wherefore do the wicked live, become old, yea, are mighty in power?" 21:7. There is no clear answer to this question in the Old Testament. Malachi predicts a new age in which the distinction of the righteous and the "wicked" will be clear and where the righteous will triumph: "Then shall ye return, and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not" Mal 3:18.

The Septuagint has three translations of rasa': asebes ("godless; impious"); hamartolos ("sinner; sinful"), and anomos ("lawless").

Two other related nouns occur in the Old Testament. Resha', which is found about 30 times, usually means "wickedness": "Remember thy servants, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; look not unto the stubbornness of this people, nor to their wickedness, nor to their sin" Deut 9:27. Rish'ah, which appears about 15 times, refers to "wickedness" or "guilt": "For my righteousness the Lord hath brought me in to possess this land: but for the wickedness of these nations the Lord doth drive them out from before thee" Deut 9:4.

B. Adjective

Rasha' "wicked; guilty." This word may also be used as an adjective. In some cases a person is so guilty that he deserves death: "...if the wicked man be worthy to be beaten, that the judge shall cause him to lie down, and to be beaten before his face... by a certain number" Deut 25:2. The characteristics of a "wicked" person qualify him as a godless, impious man: "How much more, when wicked men have slain a righteous person in his own house upon his bed? shall I not therefore now require his blood of your hand, and take you away from the earth?" 2 Sam 4:11; cf. Ezek 3:18-19.

C. Verb

Rasha' "to be wicked, act wickedly." This verb is derived from the noun rasa±. There is a similar root in Ethiopic and Arabic, with the respective meanings "to forget" and "to be loose." This verb appears in 2 Chron 6:37: "Yet if they bethink themselves in the land whither they are carried captive, and turn and pray unto thee in the land of their captivity, saying, We have sinned, we have done amiss, and have dealt wickedly."

WICKEDNESS

Beliya'al "wickedness; wicked; destruction." The 27 occurrences of this noun are scattered throughout the periods of biblical Hebrew.

The basic meaning of this word appears in a passage such as Judg 20:13, where the sons of beliya'al are perpetrators of wickedness (they raped and murdered a man's concubine): "Now therefore deliver us the men, the children of Belial [NASB, "worthless fellows"] which are in Gibeah, that we may put them to death, and put away evil from Israel." In its first appearance the word represents men who lead others into idolatry: "Certain men, the children of Belial, are gone out from among you, and have [seduced] the inhabitants of their city..." Deut 13:13. In Deut 15:9 the word modifies Hebrew dabar, "word" or "matter." Israel is warned to avoid "wicked" words (thoughts) in their hearts. Beliya'al is a synonym for rasha' ("wicked rebellious one") in Job 34:18. In Nah 1:11 the wicked counselor plots evil against God. The psalmist uses beliya'al as a synonym of death: "The cords of death encompassed me, and the torrents of ungodliness [KJV, "floods of ungodly men"] terrified me" Ps 18:4, NASB.

7 Types of Women

The purpose of this study is to focus on a single type of woman the Bible calls a STRANGE WOMAN. The Bible seems to describe two different types of women described as strange, but this study will focus on the one we define as Type 1.

This particular woman may start out with reasonable instruction when she is younger by having received guidance from those around her. In most cases, she receives praise or comments for her looks from young men as she is growing up. She really gets to like the attention, acceptance, and acknowledgement this brings her. As she grows older, she learns how to work this process to gain attention. She is the only woman the Bible uses the word flattery with. Some verses that deal with flattery follow:

Proverbs 2:16 To deliver thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger which flattereth with her words;

Proverbs 6:24 To keep thee from the evil woman, from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman.

Proverbs 7:5 That they may keep thee from the strange woman, from the stranger which flattereth with her words.

Proverbs 7:21 With her much fair speech she caused him to yield, with the flattering of her lips she forced him.

The End of this flattery is destruction

Proverbs 26:28 A lying tongue hateth those that are afflicted by it; and a flattering mouth worketh ruin.

The Lord shall judge this person

Psalms 12:3 The LORD shall cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaketh proud things:

There was much caution not to do this in the New Testament

I Thessalonians 2:5 For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloke of covetousness; God is witness:

At the time of marriage she sees her husband as someone who is obligated “to take care of me” and now she can get all the attention, acceptance and acknowledgement needed. She does not always see her role as the role of a virtuous woman. The following are some visible signs of a virtuous woman:

1. She plays a really valuable relationship role as a wife that seriously contributes to the family.

Proverbs 31:10

Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies.

2. Her husband trusts her. A husband cannot trust a woman who flirts or flatters with other men. He will not be tempted with other women because her sexual interest is in her husband.

Proverbs 31:11

The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil.

3. She is predictable in her feelings, actions, and desires which always results in doing what is right towards her husband.

Proverbs 31:12

She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life.

4. She has a willing attitude towards work. Work that is home related.

Proverbs 31:13

She seeketh wool, and flax, and worketh willingly with her hands.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF A STRANGE WOMAN

As a STRANGE WOMAN, she cannot get the attention, acceptance, and acknowledgement she wants or to the degree she wants it. No matter how her husband works at it she needs these things from other males to feel like she is still OK. Her LIFE (inner life) has been built on drawing from men. If she marries someone who does not work at romance real hard, it only complicates a problem that already exists.

Early in the marriage, she has to start the process of a focus on gaining outside admiration. (Her focus is not the same focus of a virtuous woman.) She continues to use the process of flattery and finds that it works. As time passes however, she becomes more and more bold in her ways. As this develops, she does two things:

1. Sets aside the guidance she learned while growing up
2. Forgets God will judge those that move in this direction of flattery.

Proverbs 2:17

Which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God.

As time passes her house is more and more troubled. It inclines towards trouble.

Proverbs 2:18

For her house (inclineth) unto death, and her paths unto the dead.

(Incline is the Hebrew word "showach". It means to sink or bow down or humble.)

THE DEVELOPMENT OF A STRANGE WOMAN

She pushes her husband, over time, to put up with a little more overt set of actions in how she handles other men. Soon he finds himself taking on part of the things a virtuous woman would automatically do for her family. Meanwhile, she works at developing better words to flatter with.

Proverbs 2:16 To deliver thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger which flattereth with her words;

Proverbs 6:25 Lust not after her beauty in thine heart; neither let her take thee with her eyelids.

Proverbs 7:5 That they may keep thee from the strange woman, from the stranger which flattereth with her words.

In many circumstances, she can find herself married to a man who works hard to handle his affairs correctly. Ironically, her lack of virtuous characteristics forces her husband to take on more responsibility. At times, this can result in financial loss for the family. This is not always true, however. It also is related to how fast these tendencies develop in their relationship and how much she can humble him or make him lie down or decline.

Proverbs 7:19-20

For the goodman is not at home, he is gone a long journey: 20 He hath taken a bag of money with him, and will come home at the day appointed.

Her goal is to hunt for men who are alive and strong, those worthy of paying respect to her looks as she perceives them. As she gets older, this is more and more of a concern. How can she continue to draw men and gain attention, acceptance and acknowledgement?

Proverbs 6:25

Lust not after her beauty in thine heart; neither let her take thee with her eyelids.

Although she is not a whorish woman, she is getting closer and closer in considering adultery. It is the ultimate method of taking the “life” of another.

Proverbs 6:26

For by means of a whorish woman a man is brought to a piece of bread: and the adulteress will hunt for the precious life.

Time passes and she is more and more bold. She becomes more loud or confrontational with her husband. When he tries to reason with her, she expresses her stubbornness. After all, her goals are not his goals. She has interest outside of the house.

Proverbs 7:11

(She is loud and stubborn; her feet abide not in her house:

This turning away from the instruction she received when younger, and her forgetting God's ways gets her into trouble.

Proverbs 2:17 Which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God.

Now she argues for her rights and is stubborn all the way to destruction.

Proverbs 7:11 (She is loud and stubborn; her feet abide not in her house:
Proverbs 5:3-6 For the lips of a strange woman drop as an honeycomb, and her mouth is smoother than oil: 4 But her end is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two edged sword. 5 Her feet go down to death; her steps take hold on hell. 6 Lest thou shouldest ponder the path of life, her ways are moveable, that thou canst not know them.

As time passes, she now becomes foolish and this leads to a confusing, stubborn and arguing manor described as "clamorous". Ironically, she is more and more naïve or simple.

Proverbs 9:13

A foolish woman is clamorous: she is simple, and knoweth nothing.

She has learned she can get all she wants without committing adultery, but she will find that some men think this is a game and ultimately some will call her bluff and want her to produce.

She sooner or later develops a process of actions and thinking.

1. She flatters

Proverbs 7:5

That they may keep thee from the strange woman, from the stranger which flattereth with her words.

2. Men who are simple and void of understanding hang around her. They tend to do this at first when people are not generally watching (twilight). This progresses to meetings during afterhours or on trip's (evening) and finally when no one can see their involvement (black night).

Proverbs 7:7-8

3. This strange woman goes to meet him. This could be in the early stages (twilight) or later stages (evening) or when she plans to have no restraint (dark night) she goes by him. She dresses in such a way that although she may not yet be a harlot, she draws him with just enough enticement to let him come her way. She is subtle in her approach. Enough to draw, but not to be accused of drawing.

Proverbs 7:10

And, behold, there met him a woman with the attire of an harlot, and subtil of heart.

4. When confronted by friends or her husband, she argues and is stubborn. She has interest to protect which are outside the home.

Proverbs 7:11 (She is loud and stubborn; her feet abide not in her house:

5. She is always hunting.

Proverbs 7:12 Now is she without, now in the streets, and lieth in wait at every corner.)

6. At the right time she will touch him. Sometimes just kiss him on the cheek or offer a grateful gesture. She maintains a face that implies humility and gratefulness and shyness all mixed.

Proverbs 7:13

So she caught him, and kissed him, and with an impudent face said unto him,

7. She adds religion to the problem. She is careful to let him know that she has done all she can to maintain peace with everybody and has not broken her vow at home or church.

Proverbs 7:14

I have peace offerings with me; this day have I payed my vows.

8. However, it was still not enough, and she felt to spend time with him. In fact she had such desire she really looked for him to spend time together.

Proverbs 7:15

Therefore came I forth to meet thee, diligently to seek thy face, and I have found thee.

9. She more openly expressed desires towards him.

Proverbs 7:16-18

I have decked my bed with coverings of tapestry, with carved works, with fine linen of Egypt. 17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon. 18 Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning: let us solace ourselves with loves.

10. She is married to a man who most likely is diligent (she knows he keeps this schedule and will not come back early).

Proverbs 7:19-20 19

For the goodman is not at home, he is gone a long journey: 20 He hath taken a bag of money with him, and will come home at the day appointed.

11. Fair words break his resistance. The next phrase is to flatter. This forces him.

Proverbs 7:21

With her much fair speech she caused him to yield, with the flattering of her lips she forced him.

12. To flatter is also the Hebrew word for divide. It is the ability to divide his soul (mind, will and emotions). She first is seductive, and then gets his emotions to lower his resistance through fair speech, then gets the will to give up through flattery. (If any two agree as touching any one thing, this is the direction the man will go. For instance, if the emotions and will agree as wanting her the mind will go along.)

Proverbs 7:21-23

With her much fair speech she caused him to yield, with the flattering of her lips she forced him. 22 He goeth after her straightway, as an ox goeth to the slaughter, or as a fool to the correction of the stocks; 23 Till a dart strike through his liver; as a bird hasteth to the snare, and knoweth not that it is for his life.

13. She is trouble.

Proverbs 7:24-27

Hearken unto me now therefore, O ye children, and attend to the words of my mouth. 25 Let not thine heart decline to her ways, go not astray in her paths. 26 For she hath cast down many wounded: yea, many strong men have been slain by her. 27 Her house is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death.

14. Eventually she goes beyond a focus of a few and moves towards men in general.

Proverbs 9:13-18

A foolish woman is clamorous: she is simple, and knoweth nothing. 14 For she sitteth at the door of her house, on a seat in the high places of the city, 15 To call passengers who go right on their ways: 16 Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither: and as for him that wanteth understanding, she saith to him, 17 Stolen waters are sweet, and bread eaten in secret is pleasant. 18 But he knoweth not that the dead are there; and that her guests are in the depths of hell.

Simple is from the Hebrew word for acting silly.
Foolish is from the Hebrew word for being without discipline.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF A STRANGE WOMAN

Again, this describes a strange woman that acts silly, (always cutting up about things that should be serious) and is seductive and seducible. This type of foolish person is one of the 5 primary progressive types of fools mentioned in the Hebrew language. It is a stubborn, insecure person. At times they are unteachable. Out of this kind of fool can come this strange woman and they are unteachable. Out of this kind of fool, comes this strange woman. Add this type of fool to the ways of a strange woman, and it results in the type of fool mentioned in Proverbs 9:13.

It has its roots in insecurity, fear, covetousness, idolatry, and stubbornness. It is a controlling spirit. They can blow up and cool off easy. Hard to talk to, easy to criticize their husband.

They lack the fear of the Lord.

To deal with them one must:

1. Show the truth
2. Show the consequences
3. Remove themselves fully from their current relationships
4. Re-focus on the family
5. Get a female minister/elderly lady who has been and is that virtuous woman to help
6. Husband must take time to rebuild relationship

They must reaffirm to follow that which they learned as kids and to memorize much Scripture of the correct type of woman

TO GO A WHORING, BE A HARLOT

zanah OT:2181, "to go a whoring, commit fornication, be a harlot, serve other gods." This is the regular term denoting prostitution throughout the history of Hebrew, with special nuances coming out of the religious experience of ancient Israel. The word occurs approximately 90 times in the Hebrew Old Testament. It is used for the first time in the text at the conclusion of the story of the rape of Dinah by Shechem, as her brothers excuse their revenge by asking: "Should he deal with our sister as with a harlot?" Gen 34:31.

While the term means "to commit fornication," whether by male or by female, it is to be noted that it is almost never used to describe sexual misconduct on the part of a male in the Old Testament. Part of the reason lies in the differing attitude in ancient Israel concerning sexual activity by men and women. The main reason, however, is the fact that this term is used most frequently to describe "spiritual prostitution" in which Israel turned from God to strange gods. Deut 31:16 illustrates this meaning: "And the Lord said unto Moses, Behold, thou shalt sleep with thy fathers; and this people will rise up, and go a whoring after the gods of the strangers of the land, whither they go to be among them, and will forsake me, and break my covenant which I have made with them."

Zanah became, then, the common term for spiritual backsliding. The act of harlotting after strange gods was more than changing gods, however. This was especially true when Israel went after the Canaanite gods, for the worship of these pagan deities involved actual prostitution with cult prostitutes connected with the Canaanite shrines. In the Old Testament sometimes the use of the phrase "go a whoring after" gods implies an individual's involvement with cult prostitutes. An example might be in Ex 34:15-16: "Lest thou make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land, and they go a whoring after their gods, and do sacrifice unto their gods.... And thou take of their daughters unto thy sons, and their daughters go a whoring after their gods, and make thy sons go a whoring after their gods."

The religious theory behind such activity at the Canaanite shrine was that such sexual activity with cult prostitutes, both male and female, who represented the gods and goddesses of the Canaanite fertility cult, would stimulate fertility in their crops and flocks. Such cult prostitutes were not designated as prostitutes but rather "holy ones" or "set-apart ones," since the Semitic term for "holy" means, first of all, to be set apart for a special use. This is illustrated in Deut 23:17: "There shall be no cult prostitute [set-apart one] of the daughters of Israel, neither shall there be a cult prostitute of the sons of Israel" (RSV; KJV, "whore of the daughters of Israel" and "sodomite of the sons of Israel"). This theme of religious harlotry looms large in the prophets who denounce this backsliding in no uncertain terms. Ezekiel minces no words as he openly calls both Judah and Israel "harlots" and vividly describes their backsliding in sexual terms Ezek 16:6-63; 23.

WHORE

The Book of Hosea, in which Hosea's wife Gomer became unfaithful and most likely was involved in such cult prostitution, again illustrates not only Hosea's heartbreak but also God's own heartbreak because of the unfaithfulness of his wife, Israel. Israel's unfaithfulness appears in Hos 9:1: "Rejoice not, O Israel, for joy, as other people: for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, thou hast loved a reward upon every cornfloor."

ADULTERER (-ESS), ADULTEROUS, ADULTERY

A. Nouns.

1. moichos denotes one "who has unlawful intercourse with the spouse of another," Luke 18:11; 1 Cor 6:9; Heb 13:4. As to James 4:4, see below.

2. moichalis "an adulteress," is used (a) in the natural sense, 2 Peter 2:14; Rom 7:3; (b) in the spiritual sense, James 4:4; here the RV rightly omits the word "adulterers." It was added by a copyist. As in Israel the breach of their relationship with God through their idolatry, was described as "adultery" or "harlotry" (e. g., Ezek 16:15, etc.; 23:43), so believers who cultivate friendship with the world, thus breaking their spiritual union with Christ, are spiritual "adulteresses," having been spiritually united to Him as wife to husband, Rom 7:4. It is used adjectivally to describe the Jewish people in transferring their affections from God, Matt 12:39; 16:4; Mark 8:38. In 2 Peter 2:14, the lit. translation is "full of an adulteress" (RV, marg.).

3. moicheia "adultery," is found in Matt 15:19; Mark 7:21; John 8:3 (KJV only).

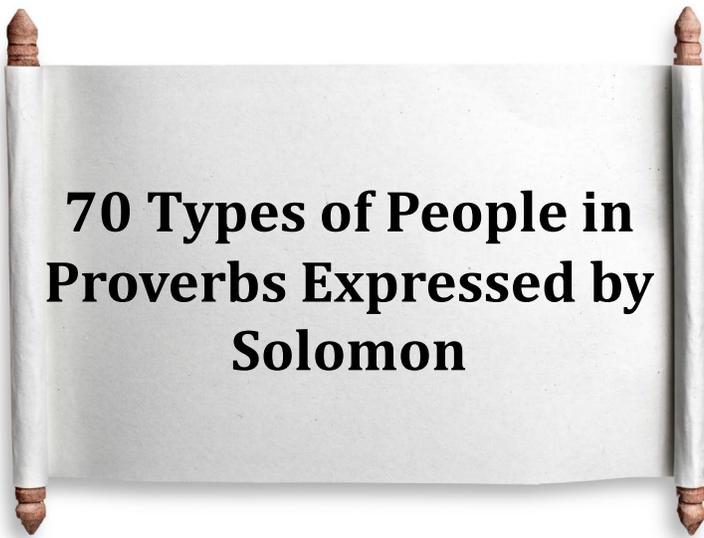

B. Verbs.

1. moichao used in the middle voice in the NT, is said of men in Matt 5:32; 19:9; Mark 10:11; of women in Mark 10:12.

2. moicheuo is used in Matt 5:27-28,32 (in v. 32 some texts have No. 1); 19:18; 10:19; 16:18; 18:20; 8:4; 2:22; 13:9; 2:11; in Rev 2:22, metaphorically, of those who are by a Jezebel's solicitations drawn away to idolatry.

Upright / Virtuous / Pure - Hebrew

UPRIGHT

A. Adjective.

yashar "upright; right; righteous; just." This adjective occurs first in Exodus in the idiom "right in his eyes": "[He] said, If thou wilt diligently hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and wilt do that which is right in his sight, and wilt give ear to his commandments, and keep all his statutes, I will put none of these diseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the Egyptians: for I am the Lord that healeth thee" Exodus 15:26. Its usage is infrequent in the Pentateuch and in the prophetic writings. Predominantly a poetic term, yashar also occurs idiomatically ("to do what is right") in the historical books; cf. 1 Kings 15:5: "Because David did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord, and turned not aside from anything that he commanded him all the days of his life, save only in the matter of Uriah the Hittite."

The basic meaning is the root meaning "to be straight" in the sense of "to be level." The legs of the creatures in Ezekiel's vision were straight Ezekiel 1:7. The Israelites designated an easy road for traveling as a "level road." It had few inclines and declines compared to the mountain roads (cf. Jeremiah 31:9: "They shall come with weeping, and with supplications will I lead them: I will cause them to walk by the rivers of water in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my firstborn").

Yashar with the meaning "right" pertains to things and to abstracts. Samuel promised himself to instruct God's people in "the good and the right way" 1 Samuel 12:23. Nehemiah thanked God for having given just ordinances: "Thou camest down also upon mount Sinai, and spakest with them from heaven, and gavest them right judgments, and true laws, good statutes and commandments" Nehemiah 9:13. Based on His revelation God expected His people to please Him in being obedient to Him: "And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord: that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest go in and possess the good land which the Lord swore unto thy fathers" Deuteronomy 6:18.

When yashar pertains to people, it is best translated "just" or "upright." God is the standard of uprightness for His people: "Good and upright is the Lord: therefore will he teach sinners in the way" Psalms 25:8. His word Psalms 33:4, judgments Psalms 19:9, and ways Hosea 14:9 reveal His uprightness and are a blessing to His people. The believer follows Him in being "upright" in heart: "Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice, ye righteous; and shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart" Psalms 32:11; cf. 7:10; 11:2. In their daily walk they manifest that they are walking on the narrow road: "The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow, to cast down the poor and needy, and to slay such as be of upright conversation" Psalms 37:14. The "just" are promised God's blessing upon their lives Proverbs 11:10-11.

Finally, yashar is also the abstract "rightness," especially when the Hebrew word has the definite article (hayyashar, "the right"): "Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and princes of the house of Israel, that abhor judgment, and pervert all equity [all that is right]" Micah 3:9.

The Septuagint translations are: arestos ("pleasing"); dikaios ("upright; just; righteous"); euthes ("upright"); and euthus ("straight").

B. Verb.

yashar "to be straight, be smooth, be right." This verb, which occurs rarely has many derivatives in the Bible.

In Akkadian the verb isharu signifies "to be straight, bring in order," and the noun misharum denotes justice and an upright way of life. The Hebrew word has many related words in other Semitic languages (Phoenician, Ugaritic) and even in Egyptian.

One occurrence of the verb is in 1 Chronicles 13:4: "And all the congregation said that they would do so: for the thing was right in the eyes of all the people." In this usage yashar has the sense of being pleasing or agreeable. In Habakkuk 2:4 the word implies an ethical uprightness.

C. Nouns.

yosher "straightness." This noun occurs about 15 times. One occurrence is in Proverbs 2:13: "Who leave the paths of uprightness, to walk in the ways of darkness."

Other nouns occur less frequently. Yishrah means "uprightness" and occurs once 1 Kings 3:6. The noun yeshurun is an honorific title for Israel Deuteronomy 32:15; 33:5. Mishor means "level place, uprightness." In 1 Kings 20:23 mishor refers to "level country"; in Isaiah 11:4 the word refers to "uprightness": "...and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth...."

TO BE CLEAN

taher "to be clean, pure." The root of this word appears over 200 times in various forms — as a verb, adjective, or noun.

Since the fall of Adam and Eve, none of their offspring is clean in the sight of the holy God: "Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin?" Proverbs 20:9. Reminding Job that protestations of innocence are of no avail, Eliphaz asked: "Shall mortal man be more just than God? Shall a man be more pure than his Maker?" Job 4:17.

There is hope, however, because God promised penitent Israel: "And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me..." Jeremiah 33:8. He said: "...I will save them out of all their dwelling places, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them: so they shall be my people, and I will be their God" Ezekiel 37:23.

The baleful effect of sin was recognized when a person contracted the dread disease of leprosy. After the priest diagnosed the disease, he could declare a person "clean" only after cleansing ceremonies had been performed: "...and he shall wash his clothes, also he shall wash his flesh in water, and he shall be clean" Leviticus 14:9.

God required that His people observe purification rites when they came into His presence for worship. On the day of Atonement, for example, prescribed ceremonies were performed to "cleanse" the altar from "the uncleanness of the children of Israel" and to "hallow it" Leviticus 16:17-19; cf. Exodus 29:36 ff.. The priests were to be purified before they performed their sacred tasks. Moses was directed to "take the Levites... and cleanse them" Numbers 8:6; cf. Leviticus 8:5-13. After they had been held captive in the unclean land of Babylon, "...the priests and the Levites purified themselves, and purified the people, and the gates, and the wall [of the rebuilt city of Jerusalem]" Nehemiah 12:30.

Cleansing might be achieved by physically removing the objects of defilement. During the reform of King Hezekiah, "the priests went into the inner part of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, and brought out all the uncleanness that they found in the temple of the Lord..." 2 Chronicles 29:16.

Some rites required blood as the purifying agent: "And he shall sprinkle of the blood upon it [the altar] with his finger seven times, and cleanse it, and hallow it from the uncleanness of the children of Israel" Leviticus 16:19. Sacrifices were offered to make atonement for a mother after childbirth: "...she shall bring... the one for the burnt offering, and the other for a sin offering: and the priest shall make an atonement for her, and she shall be clean" Leviticus 12:8.

B. Adjective.

tahor "clean; pure." The word denotes the absence of impurity, filthiness, defilement, or imperfection. It is applied concretely to substances that are genuine or unadulterated as well as describing an unstained condition of a spiritual or ceremonial nature.

Gold is a material frequently said to be free of baser ingredients. Thus the ark of the covenant, the incense altar, and the porch of the temple were "overlaid with pure gold" Exodus 25:11; 37:11,26; 2 Chronicles 3:4. Some of the furnishings and utensils in the temple — such as the mercy seat, the lampstand, the dishes, pans, bowls, jars, snuffers, trays — were of "pure gold" Exodus 37:6,16-24. The high priest's vestment included "two chains of pure gold" and "a plate of pure gold" Exodus 28:14,22,36.

God demands that His people have spiritual and moral purity, unsullied by sin. Anyone not clean of sin is subject to divine rejection and punishment. This contamination is never outgrown or overcome. Because sin pollutes one generation after another, Job asks: "Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean?" Job 14:4. All outward appearances to the contrary, it cannot be said that there is "one event... to the clean, and to the unclean" Ecclesiastes 9:2. Hope is available even to the chief of sinners, because any man can entreat the mercy of God and say: "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me" Psalms 51:10.

In sharp contrast with mankind's polluted nature and actions, "the words of the Lord are pure words..." Psalms 12:6. The Lord is "of purer eyes than to behold evil" Habakkuk 1:13.

"Clean" most frequently describes the purity maintained by avoiding contact with other human beings, abstaining from eating animals, and using things that are declared ceremonially clean. Conversely, cleansing results if ritual procedures symbolizing the removal of contamination are observed.

The people of the old covenant were told that "he that toucheth the dead body of any man shall be unclean seven days" (Numbers 19:11). A priest was not to defile himself "for the dead among his people" except "for his kin, that is near unto him" Leviticus 21:1-2. This relaxation of the rule was even denied the high priest and a Nazarite during "all the days that he separateth himself unto the Lord" Numbers 6:6.

Cleansing rituals emphasized the fact that the people were conceived and born in sin. Though conception and birth were not branded immoral (just as dying itself was not sinful), a woman who had borne a child remained unclean until she submitted to the proper purification rites Leviticus 12. Chapter 15 of Leviticus prescribes ceremonial cleansing for a woman having her menstrual flow, for a man having seminal emissions, and for "the woman also with whom man shall lie with seed of copulation" Leviticus 15:18.

To be ceremonially "clean," the Israelite also had to abstain from eating certain animals and even from touching them Leviticus 11; Deuteronomy 14:3-21. After the Israelites settled in the Promised Land, some modifications were made in the regulations Deuteronomy 12:15,22.

Purification rites frequently involved the use of water. The person to be cleansed was required to wash himself and his clothes Leviticus 15:27. Water was sprinkled on the individual, on his tent, and on all its furnishings: "And a clean person shall take hyssop, and dip it in the water, and sprinkle it upon the tent, and upon all the vessels, and upon the persons that were there, and upon him that touched a bone, or the slain, or one dead, or a grave" Numbers 19:18. Sometimes the person being cleansed also had to change garments Leviticus 6:11.

However, the rites were not meritorious deeds, earning God's favor and forgiveness. Nor did the ceremonies serve their intended purpose if performed mechanically. Unless the rites expressed a person's contrite and sincere desire to be cleansed from the defilement of sin, they were an abomination to God and only aggravated a person's guilt. Anyone who appeared before Him in ritual and ceremony with "hands... full of blood" Isaiah 1:15 and did not plead for cleansing of his crimes was judged to be as wicked as the people of Sodom and Gomorrah. Zion's hope lay in this cleansing by means of an offering: "And they shall bring all your brethren for an offering unto the Lord out of all nations upon horses... as the children of Israel bring an offering in a clean vessel into the house of the Lord" Isaiah 66:20.

PERFECT

tamim "perfect; blameless; sincerity; entire; whole; complete; full." The 91 occurrences of this word are scattered throughout biblical literature with 51 of them in passages dealing with cultic offerings.

Tamim means "complete," in the sense of the entire or whole thing: "And he shall offer of the sacrifice of the peace offering an offering made by fire unto the Lord; the fat thereof, and the whole rump, it shall he take off hard by the backbone..." Lev 3:9. The sun stood still for the "whole" day while Joshua fought the Gibeonites Josh 10:13. In Lev 23:15 God commands that there be seven "complete" sabbaths after the first fruit feast plus fifty days and then that the new grain offering be presented. A house within a walled city must be purchased back within a "full" year if it is to remain the permanent property of the seller Lev 25:30.

This word may mean "intact," or not cut up into pieces: "Behold, when it was whole, it [a piece of wood] was meet for no work..." Ezek 15:5.

Tamim may mean incontestable or free from objection. In Deut 32:4 the word modifies God's work: "His work is perfect." The people of God are to avoid the idolatrous practices of the Canaanites. They are to "be perfect with the Lord thy God" Deut 18:13. Used in such contexts the word means the one so described externally meets all the requirements of God's law (cf. Ps 18:23). This word modifies the victim to be offered to God OT:51, times). It means that the victim has no blemish Lev 22:18-21 as "blemish" is defined by God: "Ye shall offer at your own will a male without blemish, of the beeves, of the sheep, or of the goats" Lev 22:19.

In several contexts the word has a wider background. When one is described by it, there is nothing in his outward activities or internal disposition that is odious to God; "...Noah was a just man and perfect in his generations, and Noah walked with God" Gen 6:9. This word describes his entire relationship to God. In Judg 9:16, where tamim describes a relationship between men it is clear that more than mere external activity is meant: "Now therefore, if ye have done truly and sincerely [literally, "in a sincere manner"], in that ye have made Abimelech king...." This extended connotation of this nuance is also evidenced when one compares Gen 17:1 with Rom 4 where Paul argues that Abraham fulfilled God's condition but that he did so only through faith.

Another adjective, tam, appears 15 times. With a cognate in Ugaritic the word means "complete or perfect" Song 5:2, RSV, "sound or wholesome" Gen 25:27, and "complete, morally innocent, having integrity" Job 1:8.

B. Noun.

tom "completeness." This noun, which occurs 25 times, signifies "completeness" in the following senses: fullness Job 21:23, innocency or simplicity 2 Sam 15:11, integrity Gen 20:5.

C. Verb.

tamam "to be complete, be finished, be consumed, be without blame." This verb, which appears 64 times, has cognates in Aramaic, Syriac, and Arabic. The word means "to be finished or completed" in Gen 47:18: "When that year was ended, they came unto him...."

TO BE CONSUMED

tamam "to be complete, finished, perfect, spent, sound, used up, have integrity." Found in both ancient and modern Hebrew, this word also exists in ancient Ugaritic. Tamam is found approximately 60 times in the Hebrew Old Testament in its verbal forms.

The basic meaning of this word is that of "being complete" or "finished," with nothing else expected or intended. When it was said that the temple was "finished" 1 Kings 6:22, this meant that the temple was "complete," with nothing else to add. Similarly, when the notation is made in Job 31:40, "The words of Job are ended [finished]," this indicates that the cycle of Job's speeches is "complete." Tamam is sometimes used to express the fact that something is "completed" or "finished" with regard to its supply. Thus, money that is all spent is "finished" or "exhausted" Gen 47:15,18. Jeremiah was given bread daily until "all the bread in the city [was] spent [exhausted]" Jer 37:21. When a people came "to a full end" Num 14:35, RSV, it meant that they were "consumed" or "completely destroyed." To "consume" the filthiness out of the people Ezek 22:15 meant "to destroy it" or "to make an end of it."

Tamam sometimes expresses moral and ethical "soundness": "Then shall I be upright" Ps 19:13, says the psalmist, when God helps him to keep God's Law.

tam "perfect." When the adjectival form tam is used to describe Job 1:1, the meaning is not that he was really "perfect" in the ultimate sense, but rather that he was "blameless" (RSV) or "had integrity."

hagnos signifies (a) "pure from every fault, immaculate," 2 Cor 7:11 (KJV, "clear"); Phil 4:8; 1 Tim 5:22; James 3:17; 1 John 3:3 (in all which the RV rendering is "pure"), and 1 Peter 3:2, "chaste"; (b) "pure from carnality, modest," 2 Cor 11:2, RV, "pure"; Titus 2:5, chaste. See CLEAR, HOLY, PURE.

Note: Cf. hagios, "holy, as being free from admixture of evil"; hosios, "holy, as being free from defilement"; eilikrines, "pure, as being tested," lit., "judged by the sunlight", katharos, "pure, as being cleansed."

arete properly denotes whatever procures preeminent estimation for a person or thing; hence, "intrinsic eminence, moral goodness, virtue," (a) of God, 1 Peter 2:9, "excellencies" (KJV, "praises"); here the original and general sense seems to be blended with the impression made on others, i. e., renown, excellence or praise (Hort); in 2 Peter 1:3, "(by His own glory and) virtue," RV (instrumental dative), i. e., the manifestation of His divine power; this significance is frequently illustrated in the papyri and was evidently common in current Greek speech; (b) of any particular moral excellence, Phil 4:8; 2 Peter 1:5 (twice), where virtue is enjoined as an essential quality in the exercise of faith, RV, "(in your faith supply) virtue."

Note: In the KJV of Mark 5:30; Luke 6:19; 8:46, dunamis, "power" (RV), is rendered "virtue."

Moral excellence or goodness (Philippians 4:8). Virtue is considered a necessary ingredient in the exercise of faith (2 Peter 1:3,5). Sometimes the Greek word for virtue is used to express the idea of power or strength (Luke 6:19).

PURE, PURENESS, PURITY

A. Adjectives.

1. hagnos "pure from defilement, not contaminated" (from the same root as hagios, "holy"), is rendered "pure" in Philippians 4:8; 1 Timothy 5:22; James 3:17; 1 John 3:3; see CHASTE.
2. katharos "pure," as being cleansed, e. g., Matthew 5:8; 1 Timothy 1:5; 3:9; 2 Timothy 1:3; 2:22; Titus 1:15; Hebrews 10:22; James 1:27; 1 Peter 1:22; Revelation 15:6; 21:18; 22:1 (in some mss.). See CHASTE, Note, CLEAN, A.

INSIGHTS FROM PROVERBS

Upright, Virtuous, & Pure

Note: In 1 Peter 1:22 the KJV, "with a pure heart," follows those mss. which have this adjective (RV, "from the heart").

3. eilikrines signifies "unalloyed, pure"; (a) it was used of unmixed substances; (b) in the NT it is used of moral and ethical "purity," Philippians 1:10, "sincere"; so the RV in 2 Peter 3:1 (KJV, "pure"). Some regard the etymological meaning as "tested by the sunlight" (Cremer). See CHASTE, Note, SINCERE.

Note: Wine mixed with water may be hagnos, "not being contaminated"; it is not katharos, when there is the admixture of any element even though the latter is "pure" in itself.

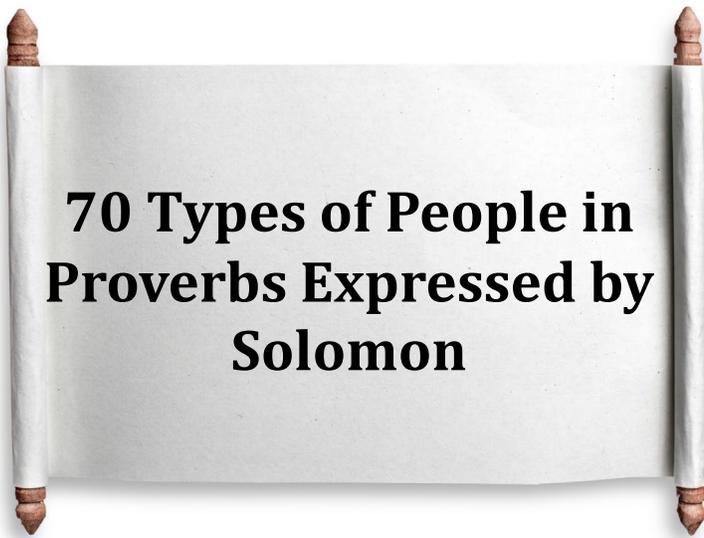

B. Nouns.

1. hagnotes the state of being hagnos (A, No. 1), occurs in 2 Corinthians 6:6, "pureness"; 11:3, in the best mss., "(and the) purity," RV.

2. hagneia synonymous with No. 1, "purity," occurs in 1 Timothy 4:12; 5:2, where it denotes the chastity which excludes all impurity of spirit, manner, or act.

You can’t be good enough you can’t do enough. This is why all are transgressors in need of a Savior. (Even then this study will smite even the righteous to address issues.)

Malachi 2:14-16

Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant. 15 And did not he make one? Yet had he the residue of the spirit. And wherefore one? That he might seek a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. 16 For the LORD, the God of Israel, saith that he hateth putting away: for one covereth violence with his garment, saith the LORD of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.

TRANSGRESSOR – Hebrew word study

TO TRANSGRESS

A. Verb.

pasha, "to transgress, rebel." Apart from biblical Hebrew, this verb occurs in post-biblical Hebrew, in Palestinian Aramaic, and in Syriac, where it has the significance of "to be terrified" or "to be tepid, to be insipid." It does not appear in any other Semitic languages. The verb occurs 41 times in the Old Testament. It is not found in the Pentateuch. The first occurrence is in Solomon's prayer at the occasion of the dedication of the temple: "And forgive Thy people who have sinned against Thee and all their transgressions which they have transgressed against Thee..." 1 Kings 8:50, NASB.

The basic sense of pasha± is "to rebel." There are two stages of rebellion. First, the whole process of rebellion has independence in view: "Then Moab rebelled against Israel after the death of Ahab" 2 Kings 1:1. Second, the final result of the rebellion is the state of independence: "In his days Edom revolted from under the hand of Judah, and made a king over themselves" 2 Kings 8:20, NASB. A more radical meaning is the state of rebellion in which there is no end of the rebellion in view. The process is no longer goal-oriented. The state thus described refers to a status quo: "So Israel rebelled against the house of David unto this day" 1 Kings 12:19. The prepositions used (be, "against," and more rarely mittachat yad, "from under the hand") indicate the object of revolt. The usage of mittachat yad with pasha± fits into the category of rebellion with no goal in view 2 Chron 21:8,10. It is best translated as an absolute, radical act ("to break away from").

Thus far, the usage has a king or a nation as the object of the revolt. Translations generally give the rendering "transgress" for pasha± when the act is committed against the Lord: "Woe unto them! for they have fled from me: destruction unto them! because they have transgressed against me..." Hos 7:13. This meaning also appears in Isa 66:24: "And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcasses of the men that have transgressed against me...." The preposition be, "against," before the name of God occurs about 10 times. In each case the act is an expression of an apostate way of life: "In transgressing and lying against the Lord, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood" Isa 59:13.

The Septuagint translators are not consistent in the translation of pasha±. The most common translations are: asebeo ("to act unpiouly"); aphistemi ("to go away, withdraw"); anomos ("lawless"); and hamartia ("sin"). The KJV gives these senses: "transgress; revolt; rebel."

A TRANSGRESSOR

B. Noun.

pesha "transgression; guilt; punishment; offering." A cognate of this word appears in Ugaritic. Pesha± appears 93 times and in all periods of biblical Hebrew.

Basically, this noun signifies willful deviation from, and therefore rebellion against, the path of godly living. This emphasis is especially prominent in Amos 2:4: "For three transgressions of Judah, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have despised the law of the Lord, and have not kept his commandments, and their lies caused them to err, after the which their fathers have walked." Such a willful rebellion from a prescribed or agreed-upon path may be perpetrated against another man: "...Jacob answered and said to Laban, What is my trespass? what is my sin, that thou hast so hotly pursued after me?" Gen 31:36 — the first occurrence of the word. Jacob is asking what he has done by way of violating or not keeping his responsibility (contract) with Laban. A nation can sin in this sense against another nation: "For three transgressions of Damascus, and for four... because they have threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron" Amos 1:3. Usually, however, pesha± has immediate reference to one's relationship to God.

This word sometimes represents the guilt of such a transgression: "I am clean, without [guilt of] transgression, I am innocent; neither is there iniquity in me" Job 33:9.

Pesha± can signify the punishment for transgression: "And a host was given him against the daily sacrifice by reason of transgression..." Dan 8:12; "How long shall be the vision concerning the daily sacrifice, and [punishment for] the transgression of desolation, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot?" Dan 8:13.

Finally, in Mic 6:7 pesha± signifies an offering for "transgression": "Shall I give my first-born for my transgression [NASB, "for my rebellious acts"]...?"

TRANSGRESSOR – Greek word study

TRANSGRESS, TRANSGRESSION

A. Verbs.

1. parabaino lit., "to go aside" (para), hence "to go beyond," is chiefly used metaphorically of "transgressing" the tradition of the elders, Matt 15:2; the commandment of God, 15:3; in Acts 1:25, of Judas, KJV, "by transgression fell" (RV, "fell away"); in 2 John 9 some texts have this verb (KJV, "transgresseth"), the best have proago (see GO, No. 10).

2. huperbaino lit., "to go over" (huper), used metaphorically and rendered "transgress" in 1 Thess 4:6 (KJV, "go beyond"), i. e., of "overstepping" the limits separating chastity from licentiousness, sanctification from sin..

3. parerchomai "to come by" (para, "by," erchomai, "to come"), "pass over," and hence, metaphorically, "to transgress," is so used in Luke 15:29. See COME, No. 9, PASS.

B. Nouns.

1. parabasis (para/basi$, NT:3847), akin to A, No. 1, primarily "a going aside," then, "an overstepping," is used metaphorically to denote "transgression" (always of a breach of law): (a) of Adam, Rom 5:14; (b) of Eve, 1 Tim 2:14; (c) negatively, where there is no law, since "transgression" implies the violation of law, none having been enacted between Adam's "transgression" and those under the Law, Rom 4:15; (d) of "transgressions" of the Law, Gal 3:19, where the statement "it was added because of transgressions" is best understood according to Rom 4:15; 5:13 and 5:20; the Law does not make men sinners, but makes them "transgressors"; hence sin becomes "exceeding sinful," Rom 7:7,13. Conscience thus had a standard external to itself; by the Law men are taught their inability to yield complete obedience to God, that thereby they may become convinced of their need of a Savior; in Rom 2:23, RV, "transgression (of the Law)," KJV, "breaking (the Law)"; Heb 2:2; 9:15.

2. paranomia "lawbreaking" (para, "contrary to," nomos, "law"), is rendered "transgression" in 2 Peter 2:16, RV (KJV, "iniquity").

Note: In 1 John 3:4 (1st part), KJV, poieo, "to do," with anomia, "lawlessness," is rendered "transgresseth... the law" (RV, "doeth... lawlessness"); in the 2nd part anomia alone is rendered "transgression of the law," KJV (RV, "lawlessness").

AN EXPLANATION BEFORE YOU GET INTO THIS STUDY

This teaching began looking at and studying the word cruel. It unlocked insights in so many more areas of study. The following explanation addresses a progressive growth of a person that becomes and is cruel.

At the end of this teaching, we have included “parts” of other teachings for your use.

- Study - Wrathful Person
- Study - Wicked Person
- Study - Scorners

Although this study began looking at a cruel person, it quickly expanded to include a violent person. Now that you are fully confused let us walk through the process of growth.

The Hebrew word chamets has been rendered 6 times in all the old testament: 3 times leavened, once cruel, once dyed, and once, “was grieved”. The process of becoming caught in all this is as leaven. It grows over time.

In its early stages the person (at generally a younger age) struggles with stubbornness (early stages of leaven) over time they feel life is about them. They get to the place that when they are threatened with their possessions or position or power they react. (They develop a reactionary spirit.)

This reaction grows into the stages of being wrathful. The person in this growth could get saved or not. There are some pastors with a serious advanced stage of being wrathful. There are many businessmen with this problem in various degrees of intensity (leaven).

The problem with stubbornness is it can grow to the Hebrew definition of stiff neck or to have iron in the neck and brass in the forehead. The problem is some think anger and wrath are the same. They are not. When a wrathful man feels harassed or threatened in the area of power, position, or possessions they react and close off their hearing. Their reaction is cruel in actions and words. As they grow in wrath and do not repent but justify their actions, they can make believe they are religious and take on wickedness.

Psalms 71:4

Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.

Proverbs 27:4

Wrath is cruel, and anger is outrageous; but who is able to stand before envy?

Proverbs 12:10

A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast: but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.

INSIGHTS FROM PROVERBS

Left unchecked (i.e., not repentant) this can grow into a scorner.

Proverbs 21:24

Proud and haughty scorner is his name, who dealeth in proud wrath.

The end is a violent man.

Psalms 11:5

The LORD trieth the righteous: but the wicked and him that loveth violence his soul hateth.

Psalms 25:19

Consider mine enemies; for they are many; and they hate me with cruel hatred.

Psalms 140:1

Deliver me, O LORD , from the evil man: preserve me from the violent man;

Psalms 140:4

Keep me, O LORD , from the hands of the wicked; preserve me from the violent man; who have purposed to overthrow my goings.

Psalms 140:11

Let not an evil speaker be established in the earth: evil shall hunt the violent man to overthrow him.

Proverbs 4:17

For they eat the bread of wickedness, and drink the wine of violence.

Proverbs 10:6

Blessings are upon the head of the just: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.

Proverbs 10:11

The mouth of a righteous man is a well of life: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.

Proverbs 16:29

A violent man enticeth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.

Micah 6:12

For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

In these teachings on people in Proverbs, I have purposed to stay with giving the reader the means to study on their own. Included are many comments on the scripture with some as insights but mostly I refrain from personal opinion. This time however, out of years of business and ministry, I can tell you I have seen this cruelty in numerous cases of saved and not saved men, of pastors and business and helpers and workers. It is in degrees (leaven). It resides in political office to professionals to people in general. The pain is beyond measure (cruel). If there ever was a teaching for you to study it is this one with its parts attached at the end.

Malachi 2:16

For the LORD, the God of Israel, saith that he hateth putting away: for one covereth violence with his garment, saith the LORD of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.

Proverbs 28:14

Happy is the man that feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into mischief.

Proverbs 29:1

He, that being often reprov'd hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy.

A violent person can start out as being nice to you to trap you into a deal. However there is almost no level of violence he will use to gain control – Awful person.

Vine's Expository Dictionary of Biblical Words

Cruel & Violent - Hebrew

CRUEL; CRUELTY

(kroo'-el), (kroo'-el-ti) 'akhzar, "harsh," "fierce," chamac, "violence"): There are various uses of the word "cruel" in the Old Testament: (a) "the cruel (deadly) venom of asps" (Deuteronomy 32:33); (b) spoken of men of relentless hate: "They hate me with cruel hatred" (Psalms 25:19; compare Proverbs 5:9; 11:17; 12:10; Jeremiah 6:23; 50:42); (c) Job speaks of God's dealings with him as "cruel" and arbitrary: "Thou art turned to be cruel to me" (Job 30:21); conscious of his virtue, yet holding God to be the author of his sufferings, Job is driven to the conclusion that God has become his enemy and is bent upon destroying him; (d) the "day of Yahweh" - a prophetic phrase to denote the time of God's manifestation in judgment-is described as coming, "cruel, with wrath and fierce anger" (Isaiah 13:9). The word "cruelty" has nearly disappeared from the Bible. In the Revised Version (British and American) it occurs only in Psalms 27:12. the King James Version has it in Genesis 49:5; Psalms 74:20 (the Revised Version (British and American) "violence"); Ezekiel 34:4 (perekh, "crushing," the Revised Version (British and American) "rigor").

The Old Testament records many acts on the part of chosen individuals and the elect nation which are marked by gross cruelty, particularly when measured by the standards of our own age. Some of these acts are sanctioned by Scripture or even presented as commanded by God, as, for example, the sacrifice of Isaac, the extermination of the Canaanites, the authorization of the avenger of blood and of human slavery, and of retaliation for evil. Some of the deeds performed by Divinely appointed leaders of Israel are characterized by inhumanity. Samuel "hewed Agag in pieces" (1 Samuel 15:33). David massacred the Ammonites with great barbarity (2 Samuel 12:31). Elijah slew the prophets of Baal (1 Kings 18:40; compare 2 Kings 1:10; 10:25). Some of the utterances of the Psalmists breathe spirit of hate and revenge, as in the so-called imprecatory psalms (Psalms 137:8-9; 139:21 f). This has often been a matter of great perplexity to the devout student of the Bible.

He has found it difficult to reconcile such practices, which bear the stamp of Divine approval, with the highest standards of Christian morality. It is sometimes urged in justification that these deeds are permitted, but not commanded by God. But this answer hardly meets the facts of the case. We shall arrive at a truer answer if we recognize the fact, which Jesus emphasizes, that the Old Testament religion is a self-accommodation to the low moral standard of those whom it was designed to instruct. This He reiterates in the Sermon on the Mount (Matthew 5:22,28,34), and affirms in His reference to the hardness of the ancestral Jewish heart (Matthew 19:8). In the Old Testament we are dealing with the childhood of the world, in which revelation is compelled to limit itself to the comprehension of its subjects. It must speak so that they can understand. It must start with them where it finds them. It must lead them along lines in which they of their own volition can walk, that character may grow step by step.

A gradual development of spiritual and ethical ideals may clearly be traced in the sacred records. We must therefore read the Old Testament narratives and interpret their teaching, not according to the standards of our own age, but in the light of the age to which these narratives belong. The spirit of Elijah may not be the spirit of Christ (Luke 9:55). While many of the acts of cruelty and barbarity recorded in the Old Testament are indicative of an age of a low type of morality, yet we must at the same time recognize the fact, that Israel's religion by emphasizing holy living and righteous conduct created an atmosphere favorable for the growth of high ethical ideals. Wherever this religion is seen at its best, as in the teachings of the prophets, it is the mark of the righteous man to treat human life as sacred and to refrain scrupulously from inflicting unnecessary pain. Even the Gentiles shall be brought to judgment for their barbarities and inhuman practices (Amos 1:2 f; 2 Kings 25:7). Among the blessings of the Messianic kingdom, predicted by the prophets, is the cessation of war with all of its attendant cruelties and horrors. The Law of Israel also reflected this tendency toward humanity, and many of its ordinances, while seemingly inhuman, really tended to mitigate prevailing barbarity. Instances of such ordinances are those referring to the maltreatment of slaves (Exodus 21:20), to the Cities of Refuge (Numbers 35:19 ff; compare Joshua 20), to rules of warfare (Deuteronomy 20:10 f), etc. The extermination of the Canaanites is represented as a Divine judgment upon a morally corrupt civilization (Genesis 15:16; Deuteronomy 12:30). It is declared necessary in order to guard the Hebrews from contamination by the sins of the Canaanites (Exodus 23:32). It is not so far back, that many of the practices that are condemned by the most enlightened Christianity of our day, prevailed universally and were not thought incompatible with Christian civilization. Even our own time needs to secure a more widespread practical recognition of the principles of humanity, kindness and justice, which are professedly the law of the Christian life.

WRATH

chemah "wrath; heat; rage; anger." This noun occurs in Semitic languages with the meanings "heat, wrath, poison, venom." The noun, as well as the verb yacham, denotes a strong emotional state. The noun is used 120 times, predominantly in the poetic and prophetic literature, especially Ezekiel.

The first usage of chemah takes place in the story of Esau and Jacob. Jacob is advised to go to Haran with the hope that Esau's "anger" will dissipate: "And tarry with him a few days, until thy brother's fury turn away" Genesis 27:44.

The word indicates a state of anger. Most of the usage involves God's "anger." His "wrath" is expressed against Israel's sin in the wilderness: "For I was afraid of the anger and hot displeasure, wherewith the Lord was wroth against you to destroy you" Deuteronomy 9:19. The psalmist prayed for God's mercy in the hour of God's "anger": "O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure" Psalms 6:1. God's "anger" against Israel was ultimately expressed in the exile of the Judeans to Babylon: "The Lord hath accomplished his fury; he hath poured out his fierce anger, and hath kindled a fire in Zion, and it hath devoured the foundations thereof" Lamentations 4:11.

The metaphor "cup" denotes the judgment of God upon His people. His "wrath" is poured out: "Therefore he hath poured upon him the fury of his anger, and the strength of battle: and it hath set him on fire round about, yet he knew not; and it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart" Isaiah 42:25; and the "cup of wrath" is drunk: "Awake, awake, stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of the Lord the cup of his fury; thou hast drunken the dregs of the cup of trembling..." Isaiah 51:17.

Thus, God as the Almighty Potentate is angered by the sins and the pride of His people, as they are an insult to His holiness. In a derived sense, the rulers on earth are also described as those who are angered, but their "anger" is aroused from circumstances over which they have no control. Naaman was angry with Elisha's advice 2 Kings 5:11-12; Ahasuerus became enraged with Vashti's refusal to display her beauty before the men Esther 1:12.

Chemah also denotes man's reaction to everyday circumstances. Man's "rage" is a dangerous expression of his emotional state, as it inflames everybody who comes close to the person in rage. "Wrath" may arise for many reasons. Proverbs speaks strongly against chemah, as jealousy 6:34; cf. "Wrath is cruel, and anger is outrageous; but who is able to stand before envy?" Proverbs 27:4; cf. Ezekiel 16:38. The man in rage may be culpable of crime and be condemned: "Be ye afraid of the sword: for wrath bringeth the punishments of the sword, that ye may know there is a judgment" Job 19:29. The wise response to "rage" is a soft answer: "A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stir up anger" Proverbs 15:1.

Chemah is associated with qin'ah, "jealousy," and also with naqam, "vengeance," as the angered person intends to save his name or avenge himself on the person who provoked him. In God's dealing with Israel He was jealous of His Holy name, for which reason He had to deal justly with idolatrous Israel by avenging Himself: "That it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance; I have set her blood upon the top of a rock, that it should not be covered" Ezekiel 24:8; but He also avenges His people against their enemies: "God is jealous, and the Lord revengeth; the Lord revengeth, and is furious; the Lord will take vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies" Nahum 1:2. Other synonyms of chemah are 'ap, "anger," and qetsep, "wrath," as in Deuteronomy 29:27 and Jeremiah 21:5.

There are two special meanings of chemah. One is "heat," as in "the Spirit lifted me up, and took me away, and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit; but the hand of the Lord was strong upon me" Ezekiel 3:14. The other is "poison," or "venom," as in Deuteronomy 32:33: "Their wine is the poison of dragons, and the cruel venom of asps."

The Septuagint gives the following translations: orge ("anger; indignation; wrath") and thumos ("passion; anger; wrath; rage"). The KJV gives these senses: "fury; wrath; poison."

B. Verb.

yacham "to be fiery, be hot." This verb, which occurs only 10 times in biblical Hebrew, is the root of the noun chemah.

In Deuteronomy 19:6 yacham means "to be hot": "Lest the avenger of the blood pursue the slayer, while his heart is hot, and overtake him...."

WICKED

A. Nouns.

rasha` "wicked; ungodly; guilty." Rasha` occurs only in Hebrew and late Aramaic. The word occurs about 260 times as a noun or an adjective and especially in the poetic literature of the Old Testament. It is rare in the Pentateuch and in the historical books. Its frequency increases in the prophetic books.

The narrow meaning of rasha` lies in the concept of "wrongdoing" or "being in the wrong." It is a legal term. The person who has sinned against the law is guilty: "They that forsake the law praise the wicked: but such as keep the law contend with them" Proverbs 28:4. When in Israel's history justice did not prevail, the "guilty" were acquitted: "...when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn" Proverbs 29:2; cf. 2 Chronicles 6:23.

Rasha` also denotes the category of people who have done wrong, are still living in sin, and are intent on continuing with wrongdoing. This is the more general meaning of the word. The first psalm exhorts the godly not to imitate the deeds and behavior of the ungodly, wicked people. The "wicked" does not seek God Psalms 10:4; he challenges God Psalms 10:13. In his way of life the "wicked" loves violence Psalms 11:5, oppresses the righteous Psalms 17:9, does not repay his debts Psalms 37:21, and lays a snare to trap the righteous Psalms 119:110. Psalms 37 gives a vivid description of the acts of the "wicked" and also of God's judgment upon them. Facing the terrible force of the "wicked," the righteous prayed for God's deliverance and for His judgment upon them. This theme of judgment has already been anticipated in Psalms 1:6: "For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish." The expectation of the righteous includes God's judgment on the "wicked" in this life that they might be ashamed Psalms 31:17, be overcome by sorrows Psalms 32:10, fall by their devices Psalms 141:10, and die a premature death Proverbs 10:27, and that their remembrance will be no more Proverbs 10:7. It is expected that at the time of their death there will be great shouting: "When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth: when the wicked perish, there is shouting" Proverbs 11:10.

The judgment upon the "wicked" is particularly strong in Proverbs, where the authors contrast the advantages of wisdom and righteousness and the disadvantages of the "wicked" (cf. 2:22: "But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it"). In Job another theme finds expression: why are the "wicked" not cut off? "Wherefore do the wicked live, become old, yea, are mighty in power?" 21:7. There is no clear answer to this question in the Old Testament. Malachi predicts a new age in which the distinction of the righteous and the "wicked" will be clear and where the righteous will triumph: "Then shall ye return, and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that seNeth him not" Malachi 3:18.

Two other related nouns occur in the Old Testament. Resha`, which is found about 30 times, usually means "wickedness": "Remember thy servants, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; look not unto the stubbornness of this people, nor to their wickedness, nor to their sin" Deuteronomy 9:27. Rish`ah, which appears about 15 times, refers to "wickedness" or "guilt": "For my righteousness the Lord hath brought me in to possess this land: but for the wickedness of these nations the Lord doth drive them out from before thee" Deuteronomy 9:4.

B. Adjective.

rasha` "wicked; guilty." This word may also be used as an adjective. In some cases a person is so guilty that he deserves death: "...if the wicked man be worthy to be beaten, that the judge shall cause him to lie down, and to be beaten before his face... by a certain number" Deuteronomy 25:2. The characteristics of a "wicked" person qualify him as a godless, impious man: "How much more, when wicked men have slain a righteous person in his own house upon his bed? shall I not therefore now require his blood of your hand, and take you away from the earth?" 2 Samuel 4:11; cf. Ezekiel 3:18-19.

C. Verb.

rasha` "to be wicked, act wickedly." This verb is derived from the noun rasa`. There is a similar root in Ethiopic and Arabic, with the respective meanings "to forget" and "to be loose." This verb appears in 2 Chronicles 6:37: "Yet if they bethink themselves in the land whither they are carried captive, and turn and pray unto thee in the land of their captivity, saying, We have sinned, we have chamas "violence; wrong; maliciousness." This word appears about 60 times and in all periods of biblical Hebrew.

VIOLENCE

Basically chamas connotes the disruption of the divinely established order of things. It has a wide range of nuances within this legal sphere. The expression "a witness in the case of violent wrongdoing" means someone who bears witness in a case having to do with such an offense (cf. Deuteronomy 19:16). In this context the truthfulness of the witness is not established except upon further investigation Deuteronomy 19:18. Once he was established as a false witness, the penalty for the crime concerning which he bore false witness was to be executed against the lair (cf. Deuteronomy 19:19). In Exodus 23:1 Israel is admonished: "...put not thine hand with the wicked to be an unrighteous witness," i. e., a witness who in accusing someone of a violent crime intends to see the accused punished severely.

Chamas perhaps connotes a "violent wrongdoing" which has not been righted, the guilt of which lies on an entire area (its inhabitants) disrupting their relationship with God and thereby interfering with His blessings.

It is this latter sense which appears in the phrase "the earth was full of violent wrongdoing": "The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence" Genesis 6:11 — the first occurrence of the word. Thus, in Genesis 16:5 Sarai summons God to judge between Abram and herself because he has not acted properly toward her keeping Hagar in submission: "My wrong [done me] be upon thee: I have given my maid into thy bosom; and when she saw that she had conceived, I was despised in her eyes: the Lord judge between me and thee." Abram as God's judge (in God's stead) accepts the correctness of her case and commits Hagar to Sarai's care to be dealt with properly.

B. Verb.

Hamas means "to treat violently." This verb, which occurs 7 times in biblical Hebrew, has cognates in Aramaic, Akkadian, and Arabic. This verb appears in Jeremiah 22:3 with the meaning of "to do no violence": "...and do no wrong, do no violence to the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow, neither shed innocent blood in this place."

2. athesmos "lawless" (a, negative, thesmos, "law, custom"), "wicked," occurs in 2 Peter 2:7; 3:17. An instance of the use of the word is found in the papyri, where a father breaks off his daughter's engagement because he learnt that her fiance was giving himself over to lawless deeds (Moulton and Milligan, Vocab.).

Notes: (1) In Matthew 21:41, KJV, kakos (for which see BAD, No. 1, EVIL, A, No. 1), is translated "wicked" (RV, "miserable"). (2) In Acts 2:23 and 2 Thessalonians 2:8, KJV, anomos, "lawless" (RV), is translated "wicked."

WRATH

The personal manifestation of God's holy, moral character in judgment against sin. Wrath is neither an impersonal process nor is it irrational and fitful like anger. It is in no way vindictive or malicious. It is holy indignation-God's anger directed against sin.

God's wrath is an expression of His holy love. If God is not a God of wrath, His love is no more than frail, worthless sentimentality; the concept of mercy is meaningless; and the Cross was a cruel and unnecessary experience for His Son.

The Bible declares that all people are "by nature children of wrath" (Ephesians 2:3) and that "the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who suppress the truth in unrighteousness" (Romans 1:18). Since Christians have been "justified by His blood, we shall be saved from wrath through Him" (Romans 5:9). The magnitude of God's love is manifested in the Cross, where God's only Son experienced wrath on our behalf.

WRATH

1. orge see ANGER and Notes (1) and (2).

2. thumos "hot anger, passion," for which see ANGER, Notes (1) and (2), is translated "wrath" in Luke 4:28; Acts 19:28; Romans 2:8, RV; Galatians 5:20; Ephesians 4:31; Colossians 3:8; Hebrews 11:27; Revelation 12:12; 14:8,10,19; 15:1,7; 16:1; 18:3; "wraths" in 2 Corinthians 12:20; "fierceness" in Revelation 16:19; 19:15 (followed by No. 1).

3. parorgismos occurs in Ephesians 4:26: see ANGER, A, Note (2).

Note: For the verb parorgizo, "to provoke to wrath," Ephesians 6:4, KJV, see ANGER, B, No. 2.

MOCK, MOCKER, MOCKING

A. Verbs.

1. empaizo a compound of paizo, "to play like a child" (pais), "to sport, jest," prefixed by en, "in" or "at," is used only in the Synoptists, and, in every instance, of the "mockery" of Christ, except in Matthew 2:16 (there in the sense of deluding, or deceiving, of Herod by the wise men) and in Luke 14:29, of ridicule cast upon the one who after laying a foundation of a tower is unable to finish it. The word is used (a) prophetically by the Lord, of His impending sufferings, Matthew 20:19; Mark 10:34; Luke 18:32; (b) of the actual insults inflicted upon Him by the men who had taken Him from Gethsemane, Luke 22:63; by Herod and his soldiers, Luke 23:11; by the soldiers of the governor, Matthew 27:29,31; Mark 15:20; Luke 23:36; by the chief priests, Matthew 27:41; Mark 15:31.

2. mukterizo from mukter, "the nose," hence, "to turn up the nose at, sneer at, treat with contempt," is used in the passive voice in Galatians 6:7, where the statement "God is not mocked" does not mean that men do not mock Him (see Proverbs 1:30, where the Sept. has the same verb); the apostle vividly contrasts the essential difference between God and man. It is impossible to impose upon Him who discerns the thoughts and intents of the heart.

3. chleuazo "to jest, mock, jeer at" (from chleue, "a jest"), is said of the ridicule of some of the Athenian philosophers at the apostle's testimony concerning the resurrection of the dead, Acts 17:32.

4. diachleuazo, an intensive form of No. 3, "to scoff at," whether by gesture or word, is said of those who jeered at the testimony given on the Day of Pentecost, Acts 2:13 (some mss. have No. 3).

B. Nouns.

1. empaiktes "a mocker" (akin to A, No. 1), is used in 2 Peter 3:3, RV, "mockers". (KJV, "scoffers"); Jude 18, RV and KJV, "mockers." In the Sept., Isaiah 3:4.
2. empaigmos the act of the empaiktes, "a mocking," is used in Hebrews 11:36, "mockings." In the Sept., Psalms 38:7; Ezekiel 22:4.
3. empaigmone an abstract noun, "mockery," is used in 2 Peter 3:3

VIOLENCE, VIOLENT, VIOLENTLY

A. Nouns.

1. bia denotes "force, violence," said of men, Acts 5:26; 21:35; 24:7; of waves, 27:41.
2. hormema, "a rush" (akin to hormao, "to urge on, to rush"), is used of the fall of Babylon, Revelation 18:21, KJV, "violence," RV, "mighty fall."
3. biastes, "a forceful or violent man," is used in Matthew 11:12. See FORCE, B, No. 1, Note. Note: In Hebrews 11:34, KJV, dunamis, "power" (RV), is rendered "violence."

B. Verbs.

1. diaseio, "to shake violently," is used in Luke 3:14, "do violence," including intimidation. In the Sept., Job 4:14.
2. biazo, in the passive voice, is rendered "suffereth violence" in Matthew 11:12; see FORCE, B, Nos. 1 and 2. Some, e. g., Cremer (Lexicon) and Dalman (Words of Jesus, pp. 139,ff.), hold that the reference is to the antagonism of the enemies of the kingdom, but Luke 16:16 (middle voice: RV, "entereth violently") indicates the meaning as referring to those who make an effort to enter the kingdom in spite of violent opposition: see PRESS, A, No. 3.

SCORN

(skorn): Fox Talbot connects this English word with the Danish skarn, "dirt," "ordure" "mud," "mire." As distinguished from such words as "mock," "deride," "scoff," all of which refer specifically to the various ways in which scorn finds outward expression, scorn itself denotes a subjective state or reaction.

Further, this state or reaction is not simple but complex. It includes a sense of superiority, resentment, and aversion. This reaction occurs when one is confronted with a person or a proposition that by challenging certain things for itself evokes a vivid sense of one's own superiority and awakens mingled resentment, repulsion and contempt by the hollowness of its claims and its intrinsic inferiority or worse. Scorn is a hotter, fiercer emotion than disdain or contempt. It is obvious that scorn may-indeed, it not uncommonly does-arise in connection with an ungrounded, arrogant sense of self-esteem.

The word, outside of the phrase "laugh to scorn," is found only in the Old Testament, and then only 4 times (Esther 3:6; King James Version, Psalms 44:13; 79:4; Habakkuk 1:10), and it represents three different Hebrew words for none of which it is a suitable rendering. The two words "thought scorn" in Esther 3:6 represent but one in Hebrew, namely, bazah, for which "disdain" would be a nearer equivalent. In Habakkuk 1:10 (the King James Version) the word translated "scorn" is micchaq, "an object of laughter," "laughing-stock." In Psalms 44:13; 79:4 the Hebrew word is la'agh from a root, probably meaning "to stutter," "stammer," for which "mocking" is a better English equivalent. In the King James Version Job 34:7; Psalms 123:4, la'agh is rendered "scorning". (the rendering given in Prop 1:22 to latson, a word from a totally different root and one much more nearly approximating the fundamental idea of the English word "Scorn." In Proverbs 29:8 and Isaiah 28:14 latson is rendered "scornful").

As a verb the word is the translation given to la'agh, "to mock" (2 Kings 19:21 parallel Isa 37:22 Job 22:19; Neh 2:19; Ps 22:7, "all laugh to scorn"); qalas = "to scoff" (Ezekiel 16:31, margin "Greek: scoffeth," but text still "scorneth"); for the noun tsechoq, "laughter" (Ezekiel 23:32); sachaq = to laugh, "laugh at" (Job 39:7,18; 2 Chronicles 30:10), with the noun sechoq, "laugh to scorn" (the Revised Version (British and American) "laughing-stock," Job 12:4); luts = "to scoff" (as used in ethical and religious connections) (Job 16:20; Proverbs 3:34; 9:12, all "scoff" in the Revised Version (British and American)); in Proverbs 19:28 the Revised Version (British and American), not happily, "mock at." the Revised Version (British and American) is warranted in substituting "scoff" for "scorn" because the context indicates some form of outward expression of the scorn.

The Revised Version (British and American) always (except Job 12:4; Sir 6:4; 1 Macc 10:70) retains "laugh to scorn" (2 Kings 19:21; 2 Chronicles 30:10; Nehemiah 2:19; Job 22:19; Psalms 22:7; Isaiah 37:22; Ezekiel 16:31; 23:32; 2 Esd 2:21; Jth 12:12; Wisd 4:18; Sir 7:11; 13:7; 20:17; Matthew 9:24; Mark 5:40; Luke 8:53). The verb in Apocrypha and the New Testament is usually katagelao, but in Wisd 4:1 ekgelao; in Sir 13:7 katamokomai; and in 2 Esd 2:21 inrideo. In addition "scorn" is retained in Esther 3:6; Job 39:7,18; 2 Esd 8:56 (contemno). In Proverbs 19:28 "scorn" is changed to "mock at" but elsewhere invariably to "scoff."

Scorner is the translation of the participle of luts and once of the participle of latsats. For "scorner" the Revised Version (British and American) everywhere substitutes properly - "scoffer." Outside of Proverbs (and Hosea 7:5) the word is to be found only in Psalms 1:2. The force of the word has been well indicated by Cheyne, who says that the "scorner (scoffer) is one who despises that which is holy and avoids the company of the noble 'wise men,' but yet in his own vain way seeks for truth; his character is marked by arrogance as that of the wise is characterized by devout caution."

LAUGH, LAUGH TO SCORN

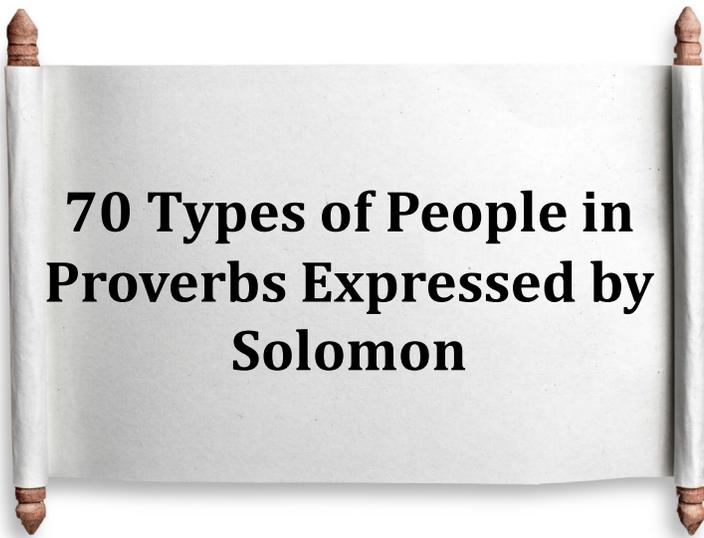

1. gelao "to laugh," is found in Luke 6:21,25. This signifies loud laughter in contrast to demonstrative weeping.

2. katagelao denotes "to laugh scornfully at," more emphatic than No. 1 (kata, "down," used intensively, and No. 1), and signifies derisive laughter, Matthew 9:24; Mark 5:40; Luke 8:53. Cf. ekmukterizo, "to deride."

Mockery, ridicule, or contempt. This concept appears in several passages in the Bible. Among the more significant is Psalms 22:7, where Jesus Christ is prophesied as One who will become the object of scorn. This is because of the seeming contradiction between His claims and His death in suffering and disgrace. In the same way, those who continue to follow the Lord in the midst of adverse circumstances are scorned by others (Psalms 44:13; 79:4). Nevertheless, the righteous will be vindicated as Christ was in His resurrection. Therefore, God's blessing rests on those who refuse to join with the scornful (Psalms 1:1).

Slothful & Sluggard - Greek

okneros "shrinking, timid" (from okneo, "to shrink, delay"), is used negatively in Phil 3:1, RV, "irksome" (KJV, "grievous"), i. e., "I do not hesitate"; in Matt 25:26, and Rom 12:11, "slothful." See GRIEVOUS, SLOTHFUL.

DULL

nothros "slow, sluggish, indolent, dull" (the etymology is uncertain), is translated "dull" in Heb 5:11 (in connection with akoe, "hearing"; lit., "in hearings"); "sluggish, in 6:12. See SLOTHFUL, SLUGGISH. In the Sept., Prov 22:29. Cf. nothrokardios, "slow of heart" (kardia, "the heart"), Prov 12:8.

Note: In Luke 24:25 "slow (of heart)" translates the synonymous word bradus. Of these Trench says (Syn. Sec. civ), "Bradus differs from the words with which it is here brought into comparison, in that no moral fault or blame is necessarily involved in it; so far indeed is it from this, that of the three occasions on which it is used in the NT two are in honor; for to be 'slow' to evil things, to rash speaking, or to anger James 1:19, twice, is a grace, and not the contrary.... There is a deeper, more inborn sluggishness implied in nothros, and this bound up as it were in the very life, more than in either of the other words of this group." Trench compares and contrasts argos, "idle," but this word is not strictly synonymous with the other two.

bareos (bare/w$, NT:917), "heavily, with difficulty" (barus, "heavy"), is used with akouo, "to hear," in Matt 13:15, and Acts 28:27 (from Isa 6:10), lit., "to hear heavily, to be dull of hearing." In the Sept., Gen 31:35 (lit., "bear it not heavily"); Isa 6:10.

SLOTHFUL

1. nothros "indolent, sluggish," is rendered "slothful" in Heb 6:12, KJV, See DULL, and synonymous words there, and SLUGGISH.
2. okneros "shrinking, irksome," is translated "slothful" in Matt 25:26, and Rom 12:11, where "in diligence not slothful," RV, might be rendered "not flagging in zeal." See GRIEVOUS, Note (2).

Beliya'al "wickedness; wicked; destruction." The 27 occurrences of this noun are scattered throughout the periods of biblical Hebrew.

The basic meaning of this word appears in a passage such as Judg 20:13, where the sons of beliya'al are perpetrators of wickedness (they raped and murdered a man's concubine): "Now therefore deliver us the men, the children of Belial [NASB, "worthless fellows"] which are in Gibeah, that we may put them to death, and put away evil from Israel." In its first appearance the word represents men who lead others into idolatry: "Certain men, the children of Belial, are gone out from among you, and have [seduced] the inhabitants of their city..." Deut 13:13. In Deut 15:9 the word modifies Hebrew dabar, "word" or "matter." Israel is warned to avoid "wicked" words (thoughts) in their hearts. Beliya'al is a synonym for rasha' ("wicked rebellious one") in Job 34:18. In Nah 1:11 the wicked counselor plots evil against God. The psalmist uses beliya'al as a synonym of death: "The cords of death encompassed me, and the torrents of ungodliness [KJV, "floods of ungodly men"] terrified me" Ps 18:4, NASB.

Ra' "bad; evil; wicked; sore." The root of this term is disputed. Some scholars believe that the Akkadian term rattu ("evil; bad") may be a cognate. Some scholars derive ra' from the Hebrew word ra'a ("to break, smash, crush"), which is a cognate of the Hebrew ratsats ("to smash, break to pieces"); ratsats in turn is related to the Arabic radda ("to crush, bruise"). If this derivation were correct, it would imply that ra' connotes sin in the sense of destructive hurtfulness; but this connotation is not appropriate in some contexts in which ra' is found.

TO BE EXALTED

A. Verb.

rum, "to be high, exalted." This root also appears in Ugaritic (with the radicals r-m), Phoenician, Aramaic (including biblical Aramaic, 4 times), Arabic, and Ethiopic. In extra-biblical Aramaic, it appears as r'm

. The word occurs in all periods of biblical Hebrew and about 190 times. Closely related is the rather rare (4 times) rmm, "to rise, go away from."

Basically, rum represents either the "state of being on a higher plane" or "movement in an upward direction." The former meaning appears in the first biblical occurrence of the word: "And the flood was forty days upon the earth; and the waters increased, and bare up the ark, and it was lifted [rose] up above the earth" Gen 7:17. Used of men, this verb may refer to their "physical stature"; for example, the spies sent into Canaan reported that "the people is greater and taller than we; the cities are great and walled up to heaven..." Deut 1:28.

The second emphasis, representing what is done to the subject or what it does to itself, appears in Ps 12:8: "The wicked walk on every side, when the vilest men are exalted." The psalmist confesses that the Lord will "set me up upon a rock" so as to be out of all danger Ps 27:5. A stormy wind Ps 107:25 "lifts up" the waves of the sea. Rum is used of the building of an edifice. Ezra confessed that God had renewed the people of Israel, allowing them "to set up the house of our God, and to repair the desolations thereof, and to give us a wall in Judah and Jerusalem" Ezra 9:9; cf. Gen 31:45. In Ezek 31:4, this verb is used of "making a plant grow larger": "The waters made him [the cedar in Lebanon] great, the deep set him up on high...." Since in Deut 1:28 gadal ("larger") and rum ("taller") are used in close connection, Ezek 31:4 could be translated: "The waters made it grow bigger, the deep made it grow taller." Closely related to this nuance is the use of rum to represent the process of child-rearing. God says through Isaiah: "...I have nourished [gadal] and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me" Isa 1:2.

Rum sometimes means "to take up away from," as in Isa 57:14: "Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumbling block out of the way of my people." When used in reference to offerings, the word signifies the "removal of a certain portion" Lev 2:9. The presentation of the entire offering is also referred to as an "offering up" Num 15:19.

In extended applications, rum has both negative and positive uses. Positively, this word can signify "to bring to a position of honor." So God says: "Behold, my servant shall deal prudently, he shall be exalted and extolled, and be very high" Isa 52:13. This same meaning occurs in 1 Sam 2:7, where Hannah confessed: "The Lord maketh poor, and maketh rich: he bringeth low, and lifteth up." Used in a negative sense, rum means "to be haughty": "And the afflicted people thou wilt save: but thine eyes are upon the haughty, that thou mayest bring them down" 2 Sam 22:28.

Rum is often used with other words in special senses. For example, to lift one's voice is "to cry aloud." Potiphar's wife reported that when Joseph attacked her, she "raised" her voice screaming. These two words (rum and "voice") are used together to mean "with a loud voice" Deut 27:14.

The raising of the hand serves as a symbol of power and strength and signifies being "mighty" or "triumphant": "Were it not that I feared the wrath of the enemy, lest their adversaries should behave themselves strangely, and lest they should say, Our hand is high [literally, "is raised"]..." Deut 32:27. To raise one's hand against someone is to rebel against him. Thus, "Jeroboam... lifted up his hand against the king" 1 Kings 11:26.

The raising of one's horn suggests the picture of a wild ox standing in all its strength. This is a picture of "triumph" over one's enemies: "My heart rejoiceth in the Lord, mine horn is exalted in the Lord; my mouth is enlarged over mine enemies..." 1 Sam 2:1. Moreover, horns symbolized the focus of one's power. Thus, when one's horn is "exalted," one's power is exalted. When one exalts another's horn, he gives him "strength": "...he [the Lord] shall give strength unto his king, and exalt the horn of his anointed" 1 Sam 2:10.

Raising one's head may be a public gesture of "triumph and supremacy," as in Ps 110:7, where it is said that after defeating all His enemies the Lord will "lift up the head." This nuance is sometimes used transitively, as when someone else lifts a person's head. Some scholars suggest that in such cases the verb signifies the action of a judge who has pronounced an accused person innocent by raising the accused's head. This phrase also came to signify "to mark with distinction," "to give honor to," or "to place in a position of strength": "But thou, O Lord, art a shield for me, my glory, and the lifter up of mine head" Ps 3:3.

To raise one's eyes or heart is to be "proud" and "arrogant": "Then thine heart be lifted up, and thou forget the Lord thy God, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt" Deut 8:14.

rum "height; haughtiness." This word occurs 6 times, and it means "height" in Prov 25:3. Rum signifies "haughtiness" in Isa 2:11.

marom OT:4791, "higher plane; height; high social position." Marom appears about 54 times in biblical Hebrew. It also is attested in Ugaritic and Old South Arabic. In its first biblical occurrence Judg 5:18, marom means "a higher plane on the surface of the earth." Job 16:19 and Isa 33:5 contain the word with the meaning of "the height" as the abode of God. Job 5:11 uses the word to refer to "a high social position." Marom can also signify "self-exaltation" 2 Kings 19:22; Ps 73:8.

Ra' "bad; evil; wicked; sore." The root of this term is disputed. Some scholars believe that the Akkadian term raggu ("evil; bad") may be a cognate. Some scholars derive ra' from the Hebrew word ra'a' ("to break, smash, crush"), which is a cognate of the Hebrew ratsats ("to smash, break to pieces"); ratsats in turn is related to the Arabic radda ("to crush, bruise"). If this derivation were correct, it would imply that ra± connotes sin in the sense of destructive hurtfulness; but this connotation is not appropriate in some contexts in which ra± is found.

Ra' refers to that which is "bad" or "evil," in a wide variety of applications. A greater number of the word's occurrences signify something morally evil or hurtful, often referring to man or men: "Then answered all the wicked men and men of Belial, of those that went with David..." 1 Sam 30:22. "And Esther said, the adversary and enemy is the wicked Haman" Est 7:6. "There they cry, but none giveth answer, because of the pride of evil men" Job 35:12; cf. Ps 10:15. Ra' is also used to denote evil words Prov 15:26, evil thoughts Gen 6:5, or evil actions Deut 17:5; Neh 13:17. Ezek 6:11 depicts grim consequences for Israel as a result of its actions: "Thus saith the Lord God; smite with thine hand, and stamp with thy foot, and say, Alas for all the evil abominations of the house of Israel! For they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence."

Ra' may mean "bad" or unpleasant in the sense of giving pain or causing unhappiness: "And Jacob said unto Pharaoh,... Few and evil have the days of the years of my life been..." Gen 47:9. "And when the people heard these evil tidings, they mourned..." Ex 33:4; cf. Gen 37:2. "Correction is grievous [ra'] unto him that forsaketh the way: and he that hateth reproof shall die" Prov 15:10.

Ra' may also connote a fierceness or wildness: "He cast upon them the fierceness of his anger, wrath, and indignation, and trouble, by sending evil [ra'] angels among them" Ps 78:49. "Some evil beast hath devoured him..." Gen 37:20; cf. Gen 37:33; Lev 26:6.

In less frequent uses, ra' implies severity: "For thus saith the Lord God; How much more when I send my four sore [ra'] judgments upon Israel..." Ezek 14:21; cf. Deut 6:22; unpleasantness: "And the Lord will take away from thee all sickness, and will put none of the evil diseases of Egypt... upon thee..." Deut 7:15; cf. Deut 28:59; deadliness: "When I shall send upon them the evil arrows of famine, which shall be for their destruction..." Ezek 5:16; cf. "hurtful sword," Ps 144:10; or sadness: "Wherefore the king said unto me, why is thy countenance sad..." Neh 2:2.

The word may also refer to something of poor or inferior quality, such as "bad" land Num 13:19, "naughty" figs Jer 24:2, "illfavored" cattle Gen 41:3,19, or a "bad" sacrificial animal Lev 27:10,12,14.

In Isa 45:7 Yahweh describes His actions by saying, "...I make peace, and create evil [ra]..."; moral "evil" is not intended in this context, but rather the antithesis of shalom ("peace; welfare; well-being"). The whole verse affirms that as absolute Sovereign, the Lord creates a universe governed by a moral order. Calamity and misfortune will surely ensue from the wickedness of ungodly men.

C. Verbs.

'abar "to transgress, cross over, pass over." This word occurs as a verb only when it refers to sin. 'Abar often carries the sense of "transgressing" a covenant or commandment — i. e., the offender "passes beyond" the limits set by God's law and falls into transgression and guilt. This meaning appears in Num 14:41: "And Moses said, wherefore now do ye transgress the commandment of the Lord? but it shall not prosper." Another example is in Judg 2:20: "And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel; and he said, Because that this people hath transgressed my covenant which I commanded their fathers, and have not hearkened unto my voice" (cf. 1 Sam 15:24; Hos 8:1).

Most frequently, 'abar illustrates the motion of "crossing over" or "passing over." (The Latin transgredior, from which we get our English word transgress, has the similar meaning of "go beyond" or "cross over.") This word refers to crossing a stream or boundage ("pass through," Num 21:22), invading a country ("passed over," Judg 11:32), crossing a boundary against a hostile army ("go over," 1 Sam 14:4), marching over ("go over," Isa 51:23), overflowing the banks of a river or other natural barriers ("pass through," Isa 23:10), passing a razor over one's head ("come upon," Num 6:5), and the passing of time ("went over," 1 Chron 29:30).

Chata' "to miss, sin, be guilty, forfeit, purify." This verb occurs 238 times and in all parts of the Old Testament. It is found also in Assyrian, Aramaic, Ethiopic, Sabeian, and Arabic.

The basic meaning of this verb is illustrated in Judg 20:16: There were 700 left-handed Benjamite soldiers who "could sling stones at a hair breadth, and not miss." The meaning is extended in Prov 19:2: "He who makes haste with his feet misses the way" (RSV, NIV, KJV NASB, "sinneth"). The intensive form is used in Gen 31:39: "That which was torn of beasts I brought not unto thee; I bare the loss of it...."

From this basic meaning comes the word's chief usage to indicate moral failure toward both God and men, and certain results of such wrongs. The first occurrence of the verb is in Gen 20:6, God's word to Abimelech after he had taken Sarah: "Yes, I know that in the integrity of your heart you have done this, and also I have kept you from sinning against Me" (NASB; cf. Gen 39:9).

Sin against God is defined in Josh 7:11: "Israel hath sinned, and they have also transgressed my covenant which I commanded them...." Also note Lev 4:27: "And if any one of the common people sin through ignorance, while he doeth somewhat against any of the commandments of the Lord concerning things which ought not to be done, and be guilty." The verb may also refer to the result of wrongdoing, as in Gen 43:9: "...then let me bear the blame for ever." Deut 24:1-4, after forbidding adulterous marriage practices, concludes: "...for that is abomination before the Lord: and thou shalt not cause the land to sin..." (KJV); the RSV renders this passage: "You shall not bring guilt upon the land." Similarly, those who pervert justice are described as "those who by a word make a man out to be guilty" Isa 29:21, NIV. This leads to the meaning in Lev 9:15: "And he... took the goat... and slew it, and offered it for sin...." The effect of the offerings for sin is described in Ps 51:7: "Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean..." (cf. Num 19:1-13). Another effect is seen in the word of the prophet to evil Babylon: "You have forfeited your life" Hab 2:10, RSV, NIV; KJV, NASB, "sinned against".

The word is used concerning acts committed against men, as in Gen 42:22: "Spake I not unto you, saying, Do not sin against the child...?" and 1 Sam 19:4: "Do not let the king sin against his servant David, since he has not sinned against you..." (NASB; NIV, "wrong, wronged").

The Septuagint translates the group of words with the verb hamartano and derived nouns 540 times. They occur 265 times in the New Testament. The fact that all "have sinned" continues to be emphasized in the New Testament Rom 3:10-18,23; cf. 1 Kings 8:46; Ps 14:1-3; Eccl 7:20. The New Testament development is that Christ, "having made one sacrifice for sins for all time sat down at the right hand of God... For by one offering he has perfected for all time those who are being sanctified" Heb 10:12-14, NASB.

C. Verbs.

1. kakoo "to ill-treat" (akin to A, No. 1), is rendered "to entreat evil" in Acts 7:6,19; "made (them) evil affected," 14:2. See AFFECT, AFFLICT, HARM, HURT, VEX.

2. kakopoieo signifies "to do evil" (cf. B, No. 5), Mark 3:4 (RV, "to do harm"); so, Luke 6:9; in 3 John 11, "doeth evil"; in 1 Peter 3:17, "evil doing." See HARM.

Note: Cf. kakologeo, "to speak evil" (see CURSE, SPEAK); kakopatheo, "to endure evil" (see ENDURE, SUFFER); kakopatheia, suffering affliction" (see SUFFER); kakoucheo, "to suffer adversity" (see SUFFER).

D. Adverb.

kakos "badly, evilly," akin to A, No. 1, is used in the physical sense, "to be sick," e. g., Matt 4:24; Mark 1:32,34; Luke 5:31 (see DISEASE). In Matt 21:41 this adverb is used with the adjective, "He will miserably destroy those miserable men," more lit., "He will evilly destroy those men (evil as they are)," with stress on the adjective; (b) in the moral sense, "to speak evilly," John 18:23; Acts 23:5; to ask evilly, James 4:3. See AMISS, GRIEVOUSLY, SICK, SORE.

EVIL, EVIL-DOER

A. Adjectives.

INSIGHTS FROM PROVERBS

Naughty or Haughty Person

1. kakos stands for "whatever is evil in character, base," in distinction (wherever the distinction is observable) from poneros (see No. 2), which indicates "what is evil in influence and effect, malignant." Kakos is the wider term and often covers the meaning of poneros. Kakos is antithetic to kalos, "fair, advisable, good in character," and to agathos, "beneficial, useful, good in act"; hence it denotes what is useless, incapable, bad; poneros is essentially antithetic to chrestos, "kind, gracious, serviceable"; hence it denotes what is destructive, injurious, evil. As evidence that poneros and kakos have much in common, though still not interchangeable, each is used of thoughts, cf. Matt 15:19 with Mark 7:21; of speech, Matt 5:11 with 1 Peter 3:10; of actions, 2 Tim 4:18 with 1 Thess 5:15; of man, Matt 18:32 with 24:48.

The use of kakos may be broadly divided as follows: (a) of what is morally or ethically "evil," whether of persons, e. g., Matt 21:41; 24:48; Phil 3:2; Rev 2:2, or qualities, emotions, passions, deeds, e. g., Mark 7:21; John 18:23,30; Rom 1:30; 3:8; 7:19,21; 13:4; 14:20; 16:19; 1 Cor 13:5; 2 Cor 13:7; 1 Thess 5:15; 1 Tim 6:10; 2 Tim 4:14; 1 Peter 3:9,12; (b) of what is injurious, destructive, baneful, pernicious, e. g., Luke 16:25; Acts 16:28; 28:5; Titus 1:12; James 3:8; Rev 16:2, where kakos and poneros come in that order, "noisome and grievous." See B, No. 3. For compounds of kakos, see below.

2. poneros akin to ponos, "labor, toil," denotes "evil that causes labor, pain, sorrow, malignant evil" (see No. 1); it is used (a) with the meaning bad, worthless, in the physical sense, Matt 7:17-18; in the moral or ethical sense, "evil," wicked; of persons, e. g., Matt 7:11; Luke 6:45; Acts 17:5; 2 Thess 3:2; 2 Tim 3:13; of "evil" spirits, e. g., Matt 12:45; Luke 7:21; Acts 19:12-13,15-16; of a generation, Matt 12:39,45; 16:4; Luke 11:29; of things, e. g., Matt 5:11; 6:23; 20:15; Mark 7:22; Luke 11:34; John 3:19; 7:7; Acts 18:14; Gal 1:4; Col 1:21; 1 Tim 6:4; 2 Tim 4:18; Heb 3:12; 10:22; James 2:4; 4:16; 1 John 3:12; 2 John 11; 3 John 10; (b) with the meaning toilsome, painful, Eph 5:16; 6:13; Rev 16:2. Cf. poneria, "iniquity, wickedness." For its use as a noun see B, No. 2.

3. phaulos primarily denotes "slight, trivial, blown about by every wind"; then, "mean, common, bad," in the sense of being worthless, paltry or contemptible, belonging to a low order of things; in John 5:29, those who have practiced "evil" things, RV, "ill" (phaula), are set in contrast to those who have done good things (agatha); the same contrast is presented in Rom 9:11 and 2 Cor 5:10, in each of which the most authentic mss. have phaulos for kakos; he who practices "evil" things (RV, "ill") hates the light, John 3:20; jealousy and strife are accompanied by "every vile deed," James 3:16. It is used as a noun in Titus 2:8 (see B, No. 4). See BAD, ILL, VILE.

B. Nouns.

1. kakia primarily, "badness" in quality (akin to A, No. 1), denotes (a) "wickedness, depravity, malignity," e. g., Acts 8:22, "wickedness"; Rom 1:29, "maliciousness"; in James 1:21, KJV, "naughtiness"; (b) "the evil of trouble, affliction," Matt 6:34, only, and here alone translated "evil." See MALICE, MALICIOUSNESS, NAUGHTINESS, WICKEDNESS.
